Oppn forms G-8, calls Congress for LS poll talks

Wants freeze on the leadership issue till the 2024 elections are over

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

SEVEN non-Congress opposition chief ministers and a deputy CM have together formed a group and had three video conferences over the last few weeks to discuss a united fight against the BJP in 2024.

The eight leaders of this group include seven chief ministers – Mamata Banerjee (West Bengal), M K Stalin (Tamil Nadu), Nitish Kumar (Bihar), K Chandrashekar Rao (Telangana), Hemant Soren (Jharkhand), Bhagwant Mann (Punjab), Arvind Kejriwal (Delhi) – and Bihar deputy chief minister Tejashwi Yadav. The Congress is part of the ruling alliance in TN, Jharkhand and Bihar.

Sources said the group, called G-8, has invited the Congress to start seat-sharing talks on the condition that the leadership of the united opposition group is left open until after the Lok Sabha elections.

The Congress is yet to respond to the proposal. But sources said Rahul Gandhi is keen to engage with G-8 leaders. They said a united challenge to the BJP with all opposition parties coming on one platform was the plan Rahul Gandhi had referred to in London recently.

Some of the group's leaders like KCR, Kejriwal and Mamata oppose breaking bread with the Congress. It is on their insistence that the condition to freeze the leadership issue until after the elections was conveyed to the Congress.

Two other chief ministers – Naveen Patnaik (Odisha) and Jagan Mohan Reddy (Andhra Pradesh) – have refused to have any pre-poll understanding with the Congress.

Sources said if the Congress does not agree to their condition on leadership, they would go ahead and expand the group by including the remaining opposition CMs and other opposition parties.

According to sources, Mamata Banerjee's meeting with Samajwadi Party president Akhilesh Yadav on Friday was an attempt by the non-Congress opposition leaders to send a message to the grand old party not to insist on a leadership position in the opposition.

> We will go our own way, maintain distance from the Congress and BJP. We are not talking about forming a third front at the moment
> Sudip Bandyopadhyay, TMC MP

The opposition leaders had not taken kindly to Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge's remark at an election rally that his party would lead the opposition and form the next government by ousting the BJP.

An opposition leader who is privy to the discussions among the G-8 said that the Congress had failed to take on the BJP in the last two Lok Sabha elections. "It was routed in states where it was in a direct fight with the BJP."

It is time the Congress allowed the regional parties that have successfully halted the BJP's march in their respective states to take the leadership position, he said.

ICC ARREST WARRANT AGAINST PUTIN

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

IN a rare move, the International Criminal Court (ICC) in The Hague on Friday issued an arrest warrant against Russian President Vladimir Putin, holding him responsible for the alleged war crimes in Ukraine.

Accusing Putin of forced transfer of children from Russian-occupied areas of Ukraine, the ICC also issued an arrest warrant against Russia's Commissioner for Children's Rights, Maria Lvova-Belova, for her "individual criminal responsibility" for the crimes.

The ICC's action does not mean Putin will be extradited as the court doesn't have the power to arrest suspects; it can only exercise jurisdiction within countries that are signatories to the Rome Statute, the agreement that set up ICC. Russia is not a signatory. However, technically, Putin can be arrested if he travels to ICC member states.

The ICC said the arrest warrants are intended to be secret in order to protect victims and witnesses, but in this case it was making them public to prevent any further abductions of children in future.

The court's president, Piotr Hofmanski, said in a video statement that while the ICC's judges have issued the warrants, it will be up to the international community to enforce them. "The ICC is doing its part of work as a court of law," he said, adding: "The judges issued arrest warrants. The execution depends on international cooperation."

ICC has no police force of its own to enforce warrants.

Ukraine welcomed ICC's move but Russia termed it 'meaningless'. Ukraine is not a member of the court, but it has granted the ICC jurisdiction over its territory.

Moscow has repeatedly denied accusations that its forces have committed atrocities during Russia's invasion of its neighbour.

Putin is the third serving president to have been issued an ICC arrest warrant. In the past, Sudan's Omar al-Bashir and Libya's Muammar Gaddafi were issued warrants. P12

WAR OF WORDS

BJP-Cong fight gets shriller

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE war of words between the BJP and the Congress got shriller on Friday with their respective party heads sparring in the context of Rahul Gandhi's 'democracy under siege' statement in London recently.

In Parliament, too, the Congress retaliated against a BJP member's demand to set up a special panel to probe Rahul's remarks and consider his expulsion, by moving a privilege motion against Prime Minister Narendra Modi for his alleged derogatory remarks against party leaders Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi.

The Congress also criticised the alleged 'muting' of Parliament's proceedings after the day's session began. Both Houses were adjourned after ruckus for the fifth consecutive day.

Himanta: No need for madrasas, will shut all in Assam

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

ASSAM Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma categorically stated here on Friday that there is no need for madrasas in society and instead, colleges and universities should be built to churn out doctors, engineers and other professionals for nation-building.

Sarma, campaigning in Karnataka for BJP ahead of the Assembly elections, was speaking after inaugurating an exhibition, "Shivacharitra", depicting the life and achievements of Chhatrapati Shivaji, at Shivaji Garden in Belagavi.

He said all madrasas in Assam will be closed soon, and already 600 such religious institutions have been shuttered.

He alleged that "atrocities" were committed during the Mughal rule and Congress is continuing with the same legacy. "The Grand Old party will not succeed in its efforts. Indian culture and heritage will continue to thrive," he added.

Sarma said, "Mughals wanted to weaken the country by destroying the Sanatan Hindu culture and Congress today has a similar agenda. Mughal rulers of Delhi destroyed the country's places of worship. However, Prime Minister Narendra Modi is helping people finally realise their dreams of having a Ram temple in Ayodhya and Kashi Vishwanath corridor."

Stating that Congressmen only spoke about Babri Mosque, he said, "People should teach them a lesson in the coming elections. There is a need to root out Congress and make Modi more powerful."

He said historians only glorified Mughal rulers, but never spoke about the life and achievements of Shivaji. "Chhatrapati Shivaji, Guru Gobind Singh and Swami Vivekananda are our heroes. We need to rewrite Indian history. Shivaji had successfully stopped the advance of Mughals towards Deccan," he added.

Compromised safety led to piped gas mishap

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

SUPPLY of piped gas to homes for cooking in the absence of strict adherence to standard operating procedures (SOPs) to ensure safety has made houses vulnerable to fire accidents.

The Thursday gas leak in HSR Layout, which injured two women, is an incident that has opened the eyes to this vulnerability — especially when cracks in the pipes are sealed without proper protocols being followed, as has been revealed to be the cause of this fire accident.

Although Gas Authority of India Limited (GAIL) has filed a complaint against Bangalore Water Supply & Sewerage Board (BWSSB) engineers over the incident, the latter said it will be asking GAIL for a list of locations where gas pipelines are passing through BWSSB manholes.

While GAIL has blamed BWSSB for not following SOPs, BWSSB officials said it was the first time such an incident had come to light wherein a gas pipeline passed through a manhole. Officials in the Infrastructure Development Department (IDD) and Urban Development Department (UDD) have said this raised concerns about the SOPs to be followed. "Using piped natural gas is the future and the government is working on this. But such incidents do raise safety concerns. It is thus important that not just the citizens, but also the agencies and the contractors follow due safety procedures listed out," said a UDD official. CONTINUED ON: P3

Shivajinagar facelift costs Rs 7 crore; Roads improved, clock tower constructed, CCTVs installed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE struggle of walking through the narrow lanes of Shivajinagar or finding a suitable parking slot are passe. Much has changed in this bustling market, with the area getting a facelift under the Smart City Project.

Chandni Chowk Circle (popularly known as Chowk) in Shivajinagar, now has a plaza, fountain, smart parking facility, bright lighting and a clock tower. The revamp of the circle and a portion of Shivajinagar was carried out by Bengaluru Smart City Limited (BSCL), at a cost of Rs 7 crore. Chandi Chowk Road, opposite Dandu Mariamma Temple Circle leading to Russell Market and Rabu Boudi (stone well), has also been developed.

According to Shakeel Ahmed, a former corporator of Bharatinagar, the 200-year-old Chandni Chowk that had sweet stalls and auto part stores, has been given a facelift along with the 250-year-old well. "Earlier, these places were filled with garbage and the roads were uneven. The area MLA's fund and BBMP funds were used for this. The clock tower is another attraction. There will be a fountain and people can gather here for cultural events," he said.

GRAND CARNIVAL TODAY

The plaza, fountain and white topping of Chandni Chowk and road were developed at a cost of Rs 5 crore, while the heritage well, lighting and other amenities cost Rs 2 crore. The government and residents are organising a grand carnival on Saturday to mark the opening of the stretch.

Mohammed Idrees Chaudhry, general secretary of Russell Market Traders' Association, said, "Earlier, taking this route was hell. But after the renovation, it has improved a great deal. During the monsoon, the roads would get flooded, which won't happen now. However, the next big challenge is maintenance."

He added that Russell Market has been painted and renovated from the outside, but needs a makeover from the inside, and should be able to generate revenue for the BBMP.

MLA Rizwan Arshad said access to this area was always an issue. "In a few days, Shivajinagar Road will be opened and Bus Stand Road will be ready. Once completed, this place will be more pedestrian-friendly. The idea is to bring people together for cultural events," said Arshad.

The area from Chowk Circle, opposite St Mary's Basilica, will also have smart parking, and can accommodate over 50 cars and 150 two-wheelers.

West B'luru hit by power, water woes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FOR most residents of west Bengaluru, this summer has been tortuous, especially because of power cuts and water problems.

For the last two days, areas from Peenya to Vijayanagara and Byadarahalli have been facing power cuts, leading to a water crisis. Also, many small and medium-scale industries have suffered losses because of power cuts.

"We were getting electricity for an hour and then there would be a power cut for more than two hours and then some relief. This went on for two days. We were unable to pump water, and we are completely helpless," said Mayanak K, a resident of Nagarbhavi.

The residents pointed out that power cuts are happening just a day after the energy department announced that there would be no power cuts for the next three months to help students and farmers.

The situation got so worse that the government water dispenser started selling water at a higher price. "As we could not pump water, we were forced to buy water. Due to power cuts, water dispensers are charging Rs 15-20 per can, while on a normal day, it would be Rs 5. People are selling water in the black," said Sujatha M, a resident of Magadi Road.

Officials at the Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Limited and Bangalore Electricity Corporation Limited said due to technical issues, the 66KV line snapped and the conductor got damaged on the Peenya-Bydarahalli line. The officials said the incident occurred on Wednesday night and since the technology is new, repairing is taking time. The heavy pre-monsoon shower on Thursday night also made the situation worse.

10-member French team looks at Metro Phase-3 funding opportunity

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

A 10-member strong French delegation, including five parliamentarians who arrived from New Delhi, took a ride on Namma Metro Friday morning from Kempegowda Interchange Metro station to Vidhana Soudha. They were impressed. The possibility that Agence Francaise de Developpement (AFD), a French public institution, which has funded Rs 1,600 crore for BMRCL phase-2, might fund the upcoming phase-3 project were also discussed, said a senior Metro official.

"The phase-2 funding was used in converting all three car coaches across BMRCL network into six-car ones, signalling and commissioning works," said a source. "To our request to consider funding our next phase, the ADB team said they would try their best to assist Namma Metro," he added.

Thierry Berthelot, Diplomatic representative of France in Karnataka & Andhra Pradesh, tweeted pictures of their visit, saying, "France is committed to the project with financing and promoting sustainable transport in the metropolis."

Jean-Louis Bourlanges, Chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee and MP for Hauts de Seine and MPs Sebastien Chenu, Hadrien Ghomi, Michel Herbilion, Farida Amrani, and representatives of the French Embassy in New Delhi, the Consulate in Bengaluru, and an AFD-Ibdia Country Director and translators were part of the team.

BMRCL MD Anjum Parwez and other top officials gave a presentative on Metro's network and its upcoming lines Friday morning, after which the team toured the station.

Emphasis was laid on hiring more women in BMRCL and making commuting more convenient for them with a separate coach. "Thirty per cent of our operations and management team which includes train operators are women and 35 per cent of our commuters are women. If one includes outsourced staff like housekeeping and security, women are 56 per cent of our workforce," he said.

Harassed woman railway passenger relives her horror

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

PINKY Chatterjee (name changed to protect identity), allegedly harassed by suspended Deputy Chief Ticketing Inspector (DyCTI) V Santhosh at the KR Puram railway station, filed a complaint against him at the Government Railway Police station at Bengaluru Cantonment on Friday.

The police, in their FIR, have booked Santhosh under Section 354 of the IPC which is an act of criminal force being used to outrage the modesty of a woman and can lead to an imprisonment term between one and five years. Chatterjee, still traumatised over her experience, said she is thankful to the strangers who came to her rescue. The woman from Kolkata was in Bengaluru on March 14 for an interview for the post of a manager in a top concern.

During her exclusive interaction with The New Indian Express on Thursday evening, she produced the proof of her ticket on her mobile. "I paid Rs 2,770 for a confirmed 3AC ticket booked through premium tatkal," she said.

This MBA tourism graduate from Bhubaneswar has a BA in Sanskrit from Kolkata. She had worked for five years since 2016 as a team leader at a top travel concern in Bengaluru. Post-Covid, she went to Kolkata and ran her ailing father's garment business for two years and arrived in Bengaluru looking for work.

Reliving the incident of Tuesday evening, she said, "I had just got out of my compartment when this official with a railway ID on him noticed me from far and rushed to me for my ticket. I had a laptop behind, a trolley bag and was carrying another bag. I told him to wait a little." The reason was it was crowded and her hands were full.

Chatterjee had walked a few steps. "I suddenly felt a big force tugging at my hair and my dress from behind in a bid to restrain me from moving. I was about to fall but steadied myself. I turned and was shocked to see the same ticketing official had stopped me," she said. This frightened her and she immediately took out her phone to show her ticket and asked him why he had to pull her. "He used unparliamentary language and said even the father of the police cannot touch him. He came very close to me and I could sense he was heavily drunk. He had a pen and brought it close to my face and said he would draw whatever he wanted on my face. He also touched my mask forcibly and was attempting to remove it with his hand almost touching my face. I really thought he would hit me and was terrified." It was then that a co-passenger shouted at him to back off. Later following public uproar over his behaviour, the official mellowed down and walked away. "It was God's grace that so many people came to my help. I still shiver when I think of the incident," she added.

> He used unparliamentary language and said even the father of the police cannot touch him. He came very close to me and I could sense he was heavily drunk
> Pinky Chatterjee, the victim

Chatterjee was a frequent flyer between Bengaluru and Kolkata and this was a rare train trip she took. She sought answers from the Railways on, "The language he used and his body language, which was that of a rowdy. He was drunk, had no respect for his job."

18TH March : I'm currently writing about a prophecy that the Age of Aquarius, the coming period of world history, will begin when a great prophet is born in the Middle East. I have to say that it's a really old idea and none of us actually believes that it's going to happen. Last time around, the great prophet was supposed to be born in Norway, and before that in London!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
A splendid new planetary pattern is about to improve the professional situation, or at least introduce a note of harmony. Even at home, you may have to wait while partners have their say before you can move ahead. It's all a matter of picking the right time.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Moral or ethical choices should now have been taken, and you must soon tell partners what you have decided. Whether they respect or even agree with your view of what is right and what is wrong is their business. Ultimately you have to do what you know is correct.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
All creative individuals should have a satisfactory day, and that includes every single one of you - especially if you have a particular hobby or project to pursue. In general this is not a time for extremes, so be content with the middle way, and see to it that practical deadlines are met.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
The Moon's daily pattern suggests that only the best will do, especially as far as home affairs are concerned. But then there's the question of your social life, and your need to feel part of a real group of like-minded people. The pieces of a friendly jigsaw could be falling into place very soon.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
A handy alignment involving Mercury and Mars is just about the perfect indication for all individuals intent on completing practical tasks and achieving tangible results. The rest of you may find that, come what may, domestic chores take the supreme position in your life.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
It may seem as if the root of any minor problems or crises today is financial. Money may indeed be a vital factor, but underlying everything are your emotional needs and attitudes to personal security. If you feel safe and happy in yourself then you really won't be bothered whether you lose a little cash - or win a little.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You may be more determined than ever to get your point across at home, especially if you see some way of snapping up a bargain or sorting out a financial dispute. Actually, partners would be foolish if they failed to pay attention to your words of wisdom.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There is one thing to be said for keeping your ideas to yourself, and that is that you won't give partners a chance to criticise you! Besides, you don't want to waste too much time explaining yourself. Give them leeway to catch up and enter the modern age before you spring any surprises on them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You're now into a new cycle of prosperity which should help wipe out some of the complicated financial patterns which have been plaguing you of late. Don't expect instant results - it might be the end of next week before a burden is lifted and you are reassured.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
The most pleasing indication today concerns Venus' relationship with your sign, inaugurating a more favourable emotional phase, and probably enabling you to spill the beans and get away unscathed. You never know when you're going to get your way - but it could be soon!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Long-range affairs seem to be much more important than usual. Overseas connections are very significant, and travel trips should be arranged without delay. Get in touch with family members who are far away, check up on educational matters and resolve monetary matters this afternoon.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There is now a great deal to be said for pressing on with business plans or joint monetary affairs. Teamwork and friendly advice seem to hold the key and you should aim for the highest standards, at least where emotional bonds are concerned. You will only be able to hold your head up if you know that you are completely honest.

Son's training saved her from gas leak fire

The house which was damaged in the explosion caused by a gas pipeline leak at HSR Layout, Sector 7, in Bengaluru on Thursday | EXPRESS

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

BASIC training at a camp helped 29-year-old hotelier Zubair Ahmed save his mother 46-year-old Laika Anjuma's life when a leak in a gas pipeline caused an explosion in her house. Her son had undergone a two-day training session at the RA Mundkur Fire and Emergency Services Academy on Bannerghatta Road, and learned about precautions to be taken during a gas leak or in case of a small fire, and first aid treatment needed.

Anjuma is still under observation at Victoria Hospital burns ward, and is said to be stable, while another victim of the gas leak, Mubashir, 40, has been discharged. Ahmed, a resident of 5th Main HSR Layout, Sector 7, recounted that he was at home when he heard a loud explosion around 8.30 am.

"My body shook due to the explosion. As BWSSB workers were working in front of our house, my mother went to the kitchen to prepare tea for them when the fire broke out. My father was outside the house," he said.

"The GAIL pipe runs next to the chamber line. The gas started leaking through the sanitary pipes including the kitchen sink pipe, pipes in the washroom and wash basin. The main door was shattered into 45 pieces. I heard my mother screaming and I rushed towards the kitchen and moved her to safety. Because I am in the hospitality business, I had undergone a two-day training course in February. This helped me curb the fire from spreading," Ahmed said.

Ahmed then rushed his mother to a nursing home and after getting first aid, she was shifted to Victoria Hospital.

"Two persons including the BWSSB contractor have been arrested. We will arrest the others also. No one will be spared if they are found to be at fault," said CK Baba, DCP, South East said.

'Pipeline passing through manhole is dangerous'

"IN this case, both the agencies (BWSSB and GAIL) are at equal fault and a detailed report will be sought from both," the UDD official added. GAIL has been operating in Bengaluru since last eight years. They have laid around 2000 km of gas pipelines in the city connected to around 1.5 lakh homes, of which 67,000 are already using piped gas.

In 2019, when a major blast occurred inside a home in Agrahara due to a gas leak, the government had directed setting up SOPs to be followed, holding all civic agencies and GAIL responsible and parties to it. As per the SOPs, every digging work is to be undertaken, if there is a gas pipeline around it, GAIL has to be informed and involved in the work.

"In this case, we were not informed. This was the first mistake. The other was when a crack occurred in the gas pipeline, we should have been informed and let the crack be left open. The contractor should not have covered it with soil. This shifted the pressure of around 2-3 kg gas from one location to the nearest opening and that's why the blast occurred. To avoid such incidents, citizens can also help by informing GAIL immediately, when they see any digging happening around any gas pipeline," said a GAIL official.

Meanwhile, BWSSB Chief Engineer (South), Venkatesh SV, said they will be asking GAIL to give a detailed list and points of where their gas pipelines pass through manholes, or near manholes. "I have never come across a gas pipeline passing inside a manhole. This is dangerous. Both the parties are at fault," he said.

The IDD official said the government was also writing to GAIL to undertake safety awareness campaigns. GAIL has also been directed to increase its staff strength for patrolling teams to immediately reach sites and take up self checks in the areas where digging and repair works are taking place.

Cong clears 124 names; 1st list may be out after Rahul's visit

Most father-children combos may get nod; Another list when poll nears; Accommodating turncoats also discussed

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

THE Congress Election Committee (CEC), chaired by AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge, held its maiden meeting in New Delhi on Friday and cleared the names of 124 candidates for the Assembly polls in Karnataka.

Almost all the 71 sitting MLAs and single names proposed by the screening committee headed by Mohan Prakash have been cleared, while those who lost the 2018 Assembly polls by a narrow margin have been given nod. Most father-children combinations too have got the green signal and their names are likely to figure in the first list. Enough hint on this was given by KPCC president DK Shivakumar, who said, "Fathers, sons and daughters are there in all parties." But the first list may be released after Congress leader Rahul Gandhi's scheduled visit to Belagavi on Monday or after Ugadi on Wednesday.

After a three-hour meeting at the AICC headquarters, the leaders shifted to Kharge's official residence for another round of deliberations.

Accommodating turncoats who are ready to join the party at the last minute was also discussed, a source said. The CEC, however, has cleared the names of certain candidates, including that of Darshan, the son of former LS member Dhruvanarayan who died recently, for the Nanjanagudu seat in Mysuru district, Mulbagal MLA Nagesh and also Hoskote MLA Sharat Bachegowda, who had won as independent MLAs and joined Congress, sources said.

Children of most veteran politicians, including former Union minister KH Muniyappa's daughter and KGF MLA Roopakala Shashidhar, former minister H C Mahadevappa's son Sunil Bose from T Narasipura Assembly seat, CLP leader Siddarmaiah's son Dr Yathindra, who is Varuna MLA, Mallikarjuna Kharge's son Priyank Kharge, Chittapur MLA and former minister Motamma's daughter Nayana Jawhar are likely to feature in the first list.

The meeting discussed offering the CV Raman Nagar seat to HC Mahadevappa and Mahadevapura or Pulikeshinagara in Bengaluru to former deputy chief minister Dr G Parameshwara if he feels Koratagere is still difficult for him to tackle. This is part of the party's strategy to win more seats from Bengaluru. Muniyappa is likely to get the Devanahalli ticket, the sources said.

The Pulikeshinagar seat, represented by Akhanda Srinivasamurthy, has not been declared as minorities have opposed his nomination, a source informed TNIE.

Dr MC Sudhakar for Chintamani, Subbareddy for Bagepalli, Shivashankar Reddy for Gauribidanuru, Ramesh Kumar from Srinivasapura and S Narayanaswamy from Bangarpet too have been cleared, the sources said.

Playing on the caste equation, the leaders also discussed the probability of letting in Hiriyur BJP MLA Poornima Srinivas, daughter of former minister late A Krishnappa, who hails from the Golla community, the sources said.

Screening Committee chief Mohan Prakash, Rahul Gandhi and other leaders took part in the meeting. The candidates for the remaining 99-100 seats including those that have multiple aspirants would be cleared when the polls near to quell rebellion, they added.

Deciding on 45-50 candidates most difficult for Congress

Bengaluru: As Congress leaders are in a huddle in Delhi deciding on the list of candidates for the Assembly polls, arriving at a final list of 224 candidates has been harder than expected. "The first 125-130 tickets are no problem because we have either sitting candidates or losing candidates who are still very strong. Multiple surveys and reports from block and local district units have also helped in making a smooth decision," Congress sources said. While even the next 40-45 seats would not be an issue as there are enough pointers to pick the right candidates, the remaining around 45-50 seats could pose a problem. That is because there are no clear candidates emerging for these seats. This despite the party carrying out constituency-wise surveys to narrow down on candidates. The party has ensured that the selection would remain objective by talking to communities like the Lingayats, Vokkaligas, Scheduled Castes, Muslims and Tribals.

Statue politics: BJP reaches out to masses of all hues

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

AHEAD of assembly elections in Karnataka, the BJP government led by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai is on a statue unveiling spree. In the past few months, the CM has unveiled at least 15 statues in various districts. Bommai also seems to be in a hurry to unveil more statues before the model code of conduct kicks in.

In March alone, he will be unveiling at least seven statues. Each statue represents a certain caste or region, and it appears to be Bommai's attempt to reach out to various communities. While some people and his own party leaders welcomed it, others slammed him for "utilising government funds" for statues.

Terming it the 'Statue of Prosperity', the government in November unveiled a 108-ft figure of Nadaprabhu Kempegowda at Kempegowda International Airport in Devanahalli. The actual unveiling was done by Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Bommai. In the same month, Bommai unveiled a 6.5-ft statue of Goddess Bhuvaneshwari at Kannada Sahitya Parishath in Chamarajapet in Bengaluru.

Other statues he unveiled include a 33-ft Lord Parashurama idol in Udupi, a 12-ft statue of former PM Atal Bihari Vajpayee, freedom fighter Kedambadi Ramaiah Gowda's 22-ft figure in Mangaluru, a 36-ft statue of Shivaji in Belagavi, Rajkumar's statue in Mahalakshmi Layout and many more. A few more are in the pipeline.

Meanwhile, Bommai also announced the installation of Subhash Chandra Bose and Sangolli Rayanna's statues in government colleges across the state. The Vidhana Soudha premises is now peopled by sculptures of Dr BR Ambedkar, Kengal Hanumanthaiah, Mahatma Gandhi and other greats.

In fact, when BS Yediyurappa was chief minister, the cabinet had approved of Basavanna's statue at Vidhana Soudha, but it did not materialise. On Kempegowda Jayanti last year, Bommai announced that a Kempegowda statue would be installed. Both statues will be unveiled on March 23 by Bommai.

According to political analysts, unveiling of statues during poll season is a time-tested method to gain votes. One analyst told TNIE that statues are not just symbols, but have historical connect too. "Through statues, political leaders are trying to erase old memories and create new memories. For instance, the Congress had named roads, airports and schemes after one family. BJP is creating a narrative of its ideology through statues and textbooks. People see these statues/names frequently, and are inclined to vote for them," he said.

He pointed out that there are people who oppose this and stress on unemployment and poverty. "But statues can penetrate people's minds and become an emotional issue," he added.

CM announces more grants

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said Rs 5 crore will be released for the development of Allama Prabhu's birthplace. He also promised Rs 10 crore for a post-graduate building of the women's university and said Shivanapada will be fully developed at Rs 10 crore.

Need for BSY in politics greater than ever before, says Bommai

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Shivamogga

HEAPING praises on BJP leader BS Yediyurappa, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Friday said it was the former chief minister who linked Shikaripura and Basavakalayana after a gap of nine centuries.

Bommai was referring to Shikaripura taluk, the birthplace of 12th century social reformers Allama Prabhu and Akkamahadevi, and Basavakalyana, where Basavanna founded Anubhava Mantapa, widely regarded as the first parliament of the world.

Unveiling a 51-foot-tall statue of Akkamahadevi and inaugurating the Aksharadhama model tourism destination at Udutadi in Shikaripura taluk, Bommai said Allama Prabhu and Akkamahadevi, who walked from Shikaripura to Basavakalyana in Bidar district, spread Sharana culture across the state.

"Yediyurappa, who fought injustice, never dreamt of becoming a chief minister. He worked tirelessly and earned the love and trust of the people of Shikaripura. Indomitable confidence and courage are his basic mantras. He sanctioned Rs 600 crore to develop Basavakalyana. It is Yediyurappa who has carried forward the revolution of the 12th century," he said.

"Shikaripura is the land of god. All works will be initiated to make Shikaripura a model of development in education, agriculture and spiritual sectors. The contribution of Yediyurappa to Shikaripura is unforgettable," he said.

He said Yediyurappa developed Kaginele, the birthplace of saint-philosopher Kanakadasa, at a cost of Rs 45 crore. "He released Rs 14 crore to develop Bada, which is in my constituency. He passed the order to celebrate Valmiki Jayanti. Yediyurappa delivered justice to all communities."

Bommai said Yediyurappa fought without power for 35 years. It was only former chief minister Ramakrishna Hegde and Yediyurappa who created leaders in Karnataka politics. "There is no question of him retiring. He has a permanent place in the minds of the people. Yediyurappa's services will be available to the state in various forms," he said.

Murugharajendra Swamiji of Anandapura, Yediyurappa, MP BY Raghavendra, ministers Govind Karjol, BA Basavaraj, MLA Kumar Bangarappa and others were present.

Show your love and trust for Vijayendra: CM

Bommai requested the people of Shikaripura Assembly constituency to bless state BJP vice-president and Yediyurappa's youngest son BY Vijayendra, who is likely to contest from Shikaripura in the upcoming Assembly elections. Bommai said the people of Shikaripura showered Yediyurappa with love and trust and showed similar love towards his elder son and MP BY Raghavendra.

Mega textile park in Kalaburagi will employ 1 lakh people

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI @Kalaburagi

WITH Prime Minister Narendra Modi announcing that PM MITRA Mega Textile Parks will come up in seven cities across the country, the decks have been cleared for establishing a textile park in Kalaburagi.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said apart from boosting the textiles sector in line with the 5F (Farm to Fibre to Factory to Fashion to Foreign) vision, it will also benefit the local ancillary industries.

"Over 1 lakh people will get direct employment from this mega textile park," Kalaburagi MP Dr Umesh Jadhav told The New Indian Express.

According to sources, the PM will flag off all the 7 PM MITRA Textile Parks at Vidhana Soudha in Bengaluru on March 24. Kalaburagi has the necessary infrastructure for the establishment of the park. The government had long back acquired 1,560 acres at Honna Kiranagi and Nadisinnur villages for the establishment of a thermal power plant. However, the proposal was dropped and it was proposed to establish a solar park there.

After deciding to establish a textile park in Kalaburagi, but before sending a proposal to the Union government, 1,000 acres of the land was transferred to the Karnataka Industrial Development Board, which is the agency to develop the infrastructure facilities for the textile park.

There were doubts regarding the establishment of the park in Kalaburagi as leaders of the ruling party were competing to get it in their respective district, or in the area of their preference. The then BS Yediyurappa government had sent a proposal to the Centre for the establishment of a textile park in Mysuru, Tumakuru, Raichur, Vijayapura and Kalaburagi.

On October 13, 2021, the Basavaraj Bommai government sent a proposal to the Union government requesting setting up of a park in Kalaburagi, Tumakuru and Vijayapura. Commerce and Industry Department Secretary Pankaj Kumar Pandey wrote to the secretary to the Union Ministry of Textiles on March 8, 2022, requesting to accord in-principle approval for setting up of PM MITRA parks in Kalaburagi and Vijayapura. The Kalaburagi MP had insisted on having the park in his constituency.

Cong, not democracy, in danger, says Nadda attacking Rahul

G SUBHASH CHANDRA @ Molakalmuru (Chitradurga dt)

BJP national president JP Nadda on Friday criticised Congress leader and Waynad MP Rahul Gandhi for his "democracy in danger" remark.

Addressing a gathering at Molakalmuru as part of BJP's Vijaya Sankalpa Yatra, Nadda accused the Congress leader of attacking India's sovereignty and said he has become a "permanent part" of "anti-national tool kit".

Questioning Rahul's intention behind urging the US and European countries to interfere in country's internal matters, Nadda said Indian democracy is not in danger. In fact, the Congress party is in danger. Because of country's vibrant democracy, the Congress won five seats in Meghalaya and three in Tripura. This shows where the people of this country have kept the Congress.

Urging people to send the Congress home by defeating its candidates, Nadda said it was Indira Gandhi, who had imposed Emergency and posed a threat to democracy.

He said Karnataka is No 1 state in attracting foreign direct investments and this is because of the people-friendly administration of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai. Export of spices from the state crossed the US$ 4 billion mark, whereas coffee exports surpassed $1 billion mark, which is a good sign of development. He hailed Bommai for making the state open defecation free to commemorate the 75 years of India's Independence.

Need Madal for custodial interrogation: Lokayukta cops

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Lokayukta police on Friday argued before the high court that Channagiri BJP MLA and former chairman of the Karnataka Soaps and Detergents Ltd (KSDL) K Madal Virupakshappa is required for custodial interrogation to obtain more information as he is not cooperating with the investigation and giving evasive answers.

The counsel for the Lokayukta police told the court that Virupakshappa, who is on interim anticipatory bail, has not even shared his phone number with the investigating officer.

The submission was made before Justice K Natarajan, who is hearing the anticipatory bail petition by Virupakshappa in a graft case registered by the Lokayukta police on March 2, 2023, against him and his son MV Prashanth Kumar, chief accountant of BWSSB.

Submitting interrogation details in a sealed cover along with the statement of objections to the bail plea, the counsel argued that they have provided the statement of the managing director of KSDL and his Whatsapp conversation with Prashanth Kumar. Also, Virupakshappa's daughter-in-law stated that the bedroom where Rs 6.10 crore was seized belonged to him.

Virupakshappa's counsel argued that there are no allegations against his client in the FIR on the demand and acceptance of bribe and it was registered only on the presumption that he was taking 30 per cent of the contract amount as bribe from the bidders to supply chemicals to KSDL. Prima facie, there is no material to attract the provisions of the Prevention of Corruption Act. Virupakshappa resigned as KSDL chairman after the FIR was registered and his son was arrested. He was also not a party to the committee that clears the tenders, he argued.

He said that though the accused is cooperating with the investigation by appearing every day, the Lokayukta police have filed objections saying there are chances of him threatening witnesses, influencing potential witnesses and tampering with evidence as he is an MLA.

Upset over being rejected, a 23-year-old man slit the throat of a 19-year-old first-year nursing student in Tamil Nadu. The police arrested the accused, V Ganesan, within a few hours by tracking his mobile phone. He has been remanded in judicial custody

NOTICE TO CBI

Poachgate: SC asks TS cops not to investigate

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday directed Telangana police not to continue its investigation into the Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS) MLA poaching case.

"The Telangana police will not continue with its investigation," a bench of Justices Sanjiv Khanna and MM Sundresh observed. While the court restrained State police from continuing with the investigation, it also issued a formal notice to CBI after Telangana government filed a plea against the high court order transferring the probe to CBI.

"It was only listed as formal notice has not been issued in the matter. It will be treated that notice has been issued. Notice at this stage need not be issued to the CBI," the court said in its order. The top court on March 13 had also directed CBI to not begin its investigation.

On being informed that the investigation has not been handed over to the CBI, a bench of Justices Sanjiv Khanna and MM Sundresh while posting Telangana government's plea against HC's December 26 and February 6 orders said, "We are making it very clear. The investigation is not to be continued while the matter is sub-judice or it will become infructuous. That is the thumb rule. Do not continue the investigation. Otherwise, we will have to pass interim orders."

The Telangana High Court on December 26 had given its orders to transfer the poaching case to CBI. The high court had also quashed the government order to constitute the SIT.

NIA chargesheets 2 in S'mogga conspiracy case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) has chargesheeted two B.Tech graduates in last year's Shivamogga Islamic State (IS) conspiracy case.

"B.Tech graduates Maaz Muneer Ahmed (23) and Syed Yasin (22) of Shivamogga were radicalised and motivated by an online foreign-based handler..and were paid in crypto currency to target public and private properties," the NIA stated in the chargesheet.

The agency said the engineering graduates were involved in 25 arson and sabotage cases in Karnataka and had used their expertise in making improvised explosive devices (IEDs).

"They procured explosives and prepared to fabricate an IED. Yasin conducted a trial explosion of one of the IEDs on the banks of the Varahi river in Shivamogga. He also burnt the Tricolour and recorded a video to establish his anti-India credentials," the NIA said.

The case relates to the "conspiracy hatched to further the activities of the IS by carrying out acts of arson, sabotage and violence in Karnataka. It was initially registered by the Karnataka police after one Prem Singh from Rajasthan was stabbed to death on August 15, 2022, in Shivamogga by accused Mohammed Zabiulla (30) and others," the NIA stated in a press release on Friday.

The NIA has chargesheeted Ahmed and Yasin (22), electrical and mechanical engineers, under Sections 120B, 121A and 122 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC), 1860, for criminal conspiracy, waging a war against the union government and collecting arms to do so; Sections 18, 18B, 20 & 38 of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act UA(P)A, 1967, Sections 4 (i) & 5 of the Explosives Substances (ES) Act, 1908, and Section 2 of the Prevention of Insults to National Honour Act, 1971.

"Investigations revealed that Ahmed received crypto currency equivalent to Rs 1.5 lakh from the online handler into accounts of his friends, whereas Yasin received Rs 62,000 into the account of a friend," the NIA said.

The agency said, "As part of the larger IS conspiracy, another accused, Mohammed Shariq, had planned to carry out an IED blast at Kadri temple in Mangaluru on November 19, 2022. However, the IED exploded midway due to timer malfunction when Shariq was enroute to the location, averting a potential disaster." Further investigations against six others arrested are on.

Gold in their golden years: Bros return as champs

PRAJNA GR @Madikeri

THE Palekanda brothers who landed at Kadanuru in Kodagu, went around an open jeep with Australian Master Games Championship medals dangling from their necks.

Palekanda Bopaiah (95) and Belliappa (86) won two medals each. While Bopaiah won a gold in the 100-m race category and a silver in javelin throw, Belliappa's golden moment came in 1500-m walking race and a bronze medal in the 100-m race

"My elder brother actually came first in the javelin throw. However, there were some technical problems, which could not be rectified despite our efforts to convince the jury," said Belliappa.

(From right) Belliappa, Machamma and Palekanda Bopaiah on an open jeep

"It was tough to get through the registration process," he said, "because the championship lacked authoritative representation from the nation. Fortunately, Mohan S, a scientist, from Chintamani of Chikkaballapur, helped us." Mohan bagged a gold medal in long jump in the 30-plus category.

"Without Mohan, we would not have won these medals. He helped us in documentation. We will never forget him," he said.

Meanwhile, 77-year-old Machamma also won a silver medal in the javelin throw.

The brothers are now looking forward to take part in the Master Games Championship in South Korea in May. However, they are worried about arranging finances.

"Australian athletes are supported by their government. We hope that our government also supports us," Belliappa said.

Revenue inspector gets 5 yrs RI, ₹4L fine for bribe

YATHIRAJU @ Bengaluru:

A Special Court sentenced a revenue inspector to five years rigorous imprisonment for demanding and taking a bribe. The court ordered the offender to pay a fine of Rs 4 lakh, double the amount of bribe he had taken.

GC Suresh (51), attached to Nada Kacheri in Kengeri, was charged by the Anti-Corruption Bureau (ACB) for offences punishable under Section 7, 13(a) (d) read with 13(2) of the Prevention of Corruption Act.

On the quantum of punishment, Special Judge K Lakshminarayana Bhat said: "The sentence to be imposed on the offender will have far-reaching consequences, in particular on other like-minded public servants working in the revenue department who are involved in corruption. After considering age and other mitigating factors, this court finds it just and proper to sentence the offender to rigorous imprisonment for a period of five years." The court said that, in a recent judgment, the Supreme Court held that corruption is a malaise pervading every walk of life. If the corrupt succeed in duping law enforcers, their success erodes even the fear of getting caught...Tracking down corrupt public servants and punishing them appropriately is the mandate of the Prevention of Corruption Act," the court said.

Threw cash on ground

Suresh had demanded Rs 5 lakh as bribe, and after negotiation, agreed to Rs 4 lakh to register names in the mutation register, on the basis of a registered sale deed. He was caught red-handed, accepting Rs 2 lakh on September 2, 2016, from the informant, in Nagarabhavi in the city. On noticing the police, the accused, threw the plastic bag of cash on the ground.

Bajrang Dal stops ladies' late night party

ENS @ Shivamogga

In an incident of moral policing, Bajrang Dal workers on Friday evening allegedly stopped a late night ladies' party which was organised at a hotel on Kuvempu Road.

The police arrived at the spot to prevent any untoward incident. Those who were inside the hotel, including women, men and a few children, came out after the workers objected to the party. Bajrang Dal leader Rajesh Gowda said, "We had informed the police a week ago that a ladies' night party would be held. Such parties should not be organised in the Malnad region. We went with the police and stopped the party."

ADANI, APOLOGY LOGJAMS THREATEN TO STALL HOUSES TILL 2024 POLLS

The political tug-of-war between the ruling and opposition parties has completely paralysed Parliament. It has jammed the third wheel of democracy. All legislative work has stopped, and issues of people's interest are not being discussed in the highest national forum. Parliament functions with mutual understanding between the treasury and opposition benches and the spirit of cooperation. Important legislative business, including the finance bill, is pending before the House in the current budget session.

The Union Budget has to be passed by both Houses within 75 days of its introduction. It is as much the responsibility of the opposition parties as that of the Union government to conduct this important business. The opposition says it has no issues with the budget and other bills brought in by the Centre and expresses its willingness to support them. It, however, demands the opportunity to discuss issues such as the alleged stock manipulation by the Adani group and the "misuse" of central government agencies to target its leaders. It cites numerous precedents where governments in the past had allowed discussions on financial scams, and joint parliamentary committees were set up to probe such cases. Notices from opposition leaders seeking discussion on these issues have, so far, not been accepted, resulting in a sit-in by the entire opposition outside Parliament. The government has maintained that the Adani issue is being looked into by the Supreme Court and a panel set up by it, adding that the opposition should wait for the outcome.

The ruling party has also demanded an apology from Congress leader Rahul Gandhi for allegedly defaming India through his recent remarks in the UK. A privilege notice has also been moved against him, seeking his expulsion from the House. The Congress has termed the ruling party's charge against Rahul as a ruse to deny the opposition a chance to debate issues in Parliament. Besides the Congress-BJP spat, other opposition parties are also on the streets. While they are on the same page with the Congress on the Adani issue, they focus more on the alleged misuse of central agencies. As both sides appear unrelenting, the complete lack of cooperative spirit threatens to wipe out all the coming sessions in the run-up to the 2024 Lok Sabha elections.

INDIAN BANKS INSULATED FROM GLOBAL SPILLOVERS

If recent developments are any indication, a global banking crisis seems to be hurtling earthwards. Three US-based banks, namely Silvergate, Silicon Valley Bank, and Signature Bank, folded in quick succession, while another lender, First Republic, got an urgent $30 billion whip round from fellow banks to stay afloat. The situation appears similar elsewhere, too, with the systemically important Credit Suisse gasping for breath. Market anxiety can be seen and felt with volatility stretching across geographies, making one thing abundantly clear—that the banking and financial sector is in for a perfect long storm. However, the anticipated rout may not end up as global financial crisis 2.0. Policymakers, financial regulators and central banks are back to the 'whatever it takes' mode for the third year now. If 2021 was all about providing liquidity, 2022 saw a fierce battle against inflation and in 2023, they are doing all they can to prevent widespread bank runs and financial contagion.

But 2023 is different from 2008, at least on two counts. If the 2008 crisis was due to credit crunch and asset quality issues, the current crisis is largely due to interest rate risk—a first in a decade. Two, they also differ on scale. While the 2008 episode saw 25 bank failures with $373 billion in combined assets, in 2023 (so far), just two banks had $319 billion in combined assets, according to government data sourced by a US-based analyst. Much of the carnage was due to the steep tightening of policy rates forcing banks to raise deposit rates even as their investment yields began plummeting. So, to avoid a full-scale crisis, the US regulators allowed regulatory relaxations so that banks could payout even uninsured depositors if they folded up. And given the intensifying financial stability risks, markets believe the Fed may well pause rate hikes to stem the panic.

Indian banks are sound, well protected, and shielded from global spillovers, thanks to the RBI's regulations, including statutory liquidity ratios, capital buffers, and cash adequacy requirements uniformly applicable for all banks and NBFCs. Moreover, household deposits dominate Indian bank funding, unlike the US peers who rely on wholesale channels, which can snap lifelines owing to macroeconomic vulnerabilities. That said, India's growth recovery process is unique, and as economist Surjit Bhalla recently noted, RBI must follow its own course than simply following the Fed.

QUICK TAKE

COSTLY ACADEMIC VACANCIES

India opens its doors to foreign universities to become a global study destination. The NEP 2020 aims to make domestic higher education institutions globally competitive. But it's tough to achieve these aims with over 11,000 faculty vacancies in central universities, IITs and IIMs lying unfilled for months, even years. The government admits filling them may take many more months. Ad hoc teaching is now rampant. The absence of permanent faculty hampers research. Universities could miss out on rankings that depend on better faculty-student ratios. Seven IITs don't have chairpersons—the lack of industrialists or scientists as chairpersons can impede academia-industry collaborations.

TRAVEL CULTURES AND CONCEPTS OF CLEAN LIVING

BIBEK DEBROY
Chairman, Economic Advisory Council to the PM

SOUMYADIP SINHA

I returned recently from a conference in the USA. Travel has its own pleasures and irritants, with irritants more for international travel than domestic—language (not in this case), adapters for electrical and electronic equipment, time differences, forex and payments, hotel check-ins and check-outs. For instance, in hotels in India, check-in and check-out are typically at noon. In India, and many parts of Asia, you will routinely get an early check-in at 10.00 am and a late check-out at 2.00 pm, with no extra charge. Forget the check-out. Throughout North America and Western Europe, you will be lucky if you are able to check-in before 2.00 pm.

Digital India has also spoiled us. Even if someone else is paying for your hotel, all hotels want a deposit for incidentals. In this particular hotel, my forex and credit cards didn't work. (They worked elsewhere, so this was a hotel-specific problem.) Had it been India, I would have directly paid a deposit from my bank account—UPI, Paytm, whatever.

Perhaps because of the ubiquitous credit card, such payment methods are alien to the USA. Then there is the metric system, or its lack. Other than the USA, Liberia (influenced by the USA) and Myanmar are the only other countries that don't use the metric system.

It makes a traveller's life difficult. You want to know the temperature and you will have to mentally do the Fahrenheit to Centigrade conversion. Ditto for distance, height and weight. Of course, it isn't a binary. Several countries have switched to metric for some purposes, but not for others. (Clothing and footwear are examples.) In the USA, a bottled soft drink will follow the metric system, but a can of the same stuff won't. Both systems operate in parallel. US companies with overseas transactions will use metric abroad and non-metric at home.

Offhand, I cannot recall a single recent academic paper, published by an American economist in a refereed journal, that uses non-metric. The USA signed the Treaty of the Metre in 1875 and metric has been the preferred system for trade and commerce since 1988. (In the USA, the treaty will be written as the Treaty of the Meter. Those spelling differences don't cause major transaction costs, though word-processing software may use the Americanized spelling by default. But in other cases, there are transaction costs.)

Why doesn't the USA switch completely? Because there are switching costs for both business and individuals, and that's a disincentive. Perversely, the parallel systems have removed some of the incentive to switch. Switching costs aren't a convincing argument. When the numbering system for national highways was changed, didn't road signage have to be redone? Had both continued in parallel, wouldn't that have confused everyone?

On travel nuisances, there is the matter of toilet paper too. Depending on history, society and culture, toilet paper usage varies by country and is concentrated in North America, Western Europe, Australia and Japan, with China a relatively new entrant. I saw a map which gives toilet paper usage per lifetime, measured in miles (not kilometres). In the USA, it is a staggering 633.78 miles, surpassed only by Portugal. (In 2020, during Covid, there was a toilet paper shortage and mad rush in many countries.) Of course, bidets have become fairly common in Western Europe and Japan. In December 2009, there was a story in Scientific American, titled Wipe or Wash? Do Bidets Save Forest and Water Resources? A long quote from this is worth it:

"Justin Thomas, editor of the website metaefficient.com, considers bidets to be "a key green technology" because they eliminate the use of toilet paper. According to his analysis, Americans use 36.5 billion rolls of toilet paper every year, representing the pulping of some 15 million trees. Thomas says: 'This also involves 473,587,500,000 gallons of water to produce the paper and 253,000 tons of chlorine for bleaching.' He adds that manufacturing requires about 17.3 terawatts of electricity annually and that significant amounts of energy and materials are used in packaging and in transportation to retail outlets. To those who say that bidets waste water, advocates counter that the amount is trivial compared to how much water we use to produce toilet paper in the first place. Biolife Technologies, manufacturer of the high-end line of Coco bidets, says the amount of water used by a typical bidet is about 1/8th of a gallon, with the average toilet using about four gallons per flush. Lloyd Alter of the website treehugger.com reports that making a single roll of toilet paper requires 37 gallons of water, 1.3 kilowatt/hours (KWh) of electricity and some 1.5 pounds of wood. Thomas points out that toilet paper is also a public nuisance in that it clogs pipes and adds a significant load onto city sewer systems and water treatment plants."

Add to that the greater danger of infections with toilet paper. At the time of Covid, no one has satisfactorily explained greater immunity in India. We do take off our footwear before entering the house. We don't readily shake hands. We wash our hands frequently. We don't use infected cutlery. These are worth thinking about before we follow the American dream.

Hotels in Europe will often have bidets, not in the USA. Therefore, unless I immediately had a shower, I felt unclean. I met a group of NRIs and OCIs (US citizens). They have done well in the USA, as Indian professional groups usually do, and are eager to know more about the new India and do their little bit to repay the homeland. (It is a different matter that they remember India as they had left it, not as it is today.) The favourite area to pay back was climate change. We went back and forth on climate change, the 2015 Paris Agreement, SDGs, carbon neutrality, renewable energy, international solar alliance, figures on emissions and vulnerability (say India) versus responsibility (say USA).

In other words, we traversed the entire gamut of negotiating positions and arguments and counter-arguments. Since we went round and round in circles, I eventually remarked, "Why don't you lobby for elimination of toilet paper usage in the USA? It will help the cause of the environment enormously." There was shock and pin-drop silence. Stated on the spur of the moment, I think it is a good idea. There should be a proper research paper, not merely journalistic reporting, on toilet paper costs.

AI IN THE SEARCH FOR EARTH-LIKE ECOLOGY

PRATIK KANJILAL
Editor of The India Cable

SPEAKEASY

This week, the fourth iteration of ChatGPT debuted for paying users. Its predecessor ChatGPT3 grabbed all the headlines, but this one is miles ahead. It can work with text, audio and video prompts and is claimed to be more creative. New users are saying that it can make you superhuman. But is it even human?

The linguists Noam Chomsky and Ian Roberts, and artificial intelligence specialist Jeffrey Watumull, wrote an op-ed in the New York Times last week which put the craze about intelligent chatbots in context. They feel that the dominant form of AI, machine learning, suffers from a poor understanding of knowledge and language. It is entirely about pattern recognition and replication, involving no creativity but trying, from experience, to predict human acts like writing a book or drawing a portrait. It is an industrious amateur scavenging from the vast creative output of the human race.

The long-predicted 'singularity'—the point where AI surpasses human intelligence and becomes incomprehensible, robbing us of agency—is still in the middle distance. The authors in NYT also observed that while machines 'learn' from mountains of human input, babies build huge visual, musical and verbal language frameworks from tiny inputs. Human and machine 'minds' are fundamentally different.

The article rained on the AI parade, but that's only because it's oversold. Take away the hype, and AI remains a very useful tool for taking the struggle out of commercial creativity. For instance, every day the world over, new companies are founded, and they need new logos. In a minute, AI can create dozens of options of graphics, lettering and colour schemes, which a designer can use as the basis for final artwork. It won't be high commercial art, like the logos of Amazon and Amul are, but they'll do just fine for your neighbourhood chemist or toyshop.

AI is already taking the drudgery out of science, as in a project reported on March 6 in Nature Astronomy, which intelligently seeks signs of life on planets. Using rovers, drones and satellites, Mars is being probed for biosignatures—signs of life past and present. But they are shots in the dark because the search radius of the first two is very limited, and the third is rather far up. If a survey could identify areas where life is probable, the search could zero in on them.

The project chose the high-altitude Atacama desert as an analogue of Martian terrain and sought endoliths, microorganisms which live within rocks. Using machine learning and a neural network, the system learned to cut down the search area by 97%, increasing the probability of finding life by 88%. Since planetary missions are prohibitively expensive, this simple intervention using AI could make a crucial difference in the possibility of finding life.

> While bacteria at the surface usually divide several times every hour, microorganisms deep in the earth may divide so infrequently that if they did so this week, the last time around, Mahmud of Ghazni was besieging Gwalior

The search for life out there is an old obsession—we all want to know if we are alone. And as an ecological crisis looms, we also want to know if future generations can take a ticket out to other planets. That could be easier if life is found on them and can be recruited to the project of terraforming—making another planet's ecology earth-like.

But the search for life, even on our own planet, has barely scratched the surface—literally. Most of life may actually be in the 'deep biosphere', the vast mass beneath the few centimetres of topsoil that sunlight and oxygen penetrate. Beneath, extending down for kilometres is a world without the primary enablers of life on the surface. It's a world populated by archaea and chemolithotrophs, which thrive on anaerobic chemistry involving minerals, hydrogen and sulphur.

We imagine that the deeper you go, the colder it gets (think of the chill of the grave). But this ceases to be true only a few metres in the earth's crust. The mantle, from which volcanoes are born, is hot. It is a source of energy and, therefore, a possible enabler of extremophilic life. Also, the subsurface is a vast reservoir of water, the universal solvent. The water under the surface is estimated to be about 100 times the volume of all surface water bodies like rivers and lakes. Based on the volume of energy, nutrients and water available, it is surmised that one-third of the earth's biomass is underground.

Life is often lived at glacial speeds down there. While bacteria at the surface usually divide several times every hour, microorganisms deep in the earth may divide so infrequently that if they did so this week, the last time around, Mahmud of Ghazni was besieging Gwalior.

The lack of an active lifestyle can be attributed to the poor resource inputs available and the impossibility of photosynthesis in the absence of light. But studying these life forms is so new that it is unknown what they could do in a more hospitable world. Specifically, what they could do, with a little genetic nudging, to make worlds more hospitable.

Their study, both on earth and elsewhere, could be an applied science because, potentially, they can be used for terraforming other planets. Without the help of local life, improving even a somewhat earth-like planet like Mars would cost several times the value of global GDP. Even if the human race could escape the earth without help from exotic bugs, which AI may help us discover, the cost of living out there would be prohibitive.

Opposition unity

Apropos of Opposition unity a mythical maze making no headway (Mar 17). The writer has rightly said that the Congress is standing on a melting iceberg and it is high time it sheds its leadership tag. It seems falsely optimistic to think all the opposition parties could be united, since the general elections are just a year away.

Australia vs India

Apropos of India must tick right boxes to wow at WTC (March 17). Both Australia and India will play the final in a neutral venue, but the conditions would be more close to home for Australia. With their trusted and deadly fast bowling combination of Starc, Cummins and Hazlewood assisted by Lyon's spin support, Australia could well be the aggressor. India must think twice before dropping Ashwin.

Functioning of Parliament

Why is the ruling party giving so much prominence and authority to what was said in London recently? Used to passing legislation without discussions and frequently introducing bills, they are so devoid of responses that they prefer to ensure that Parliament does not function. Most unfortunate indeed for the country.

Hemachandra Basappa, Bengaluru

Police station infra

Apropos of Policing without policy (Mar 17). It's unfortunate that in Amrit Kaal, some stations are still without basic infrastructure like telephone connections, vehicles, CCTVs, etc. AI and facial recognition are dreams for them! These inadequacies must be addressed at the earliest along with implementation of the police reforms already approved by the government.

Safe travel

Apropos of Driving sense into motorists to reduce highway accidents (Mar 16). Tracking down violators at the next toll plaza is an effective deterrent to overspeeding. Acquiring more land, creating more lanes, dedicated lanes for pedestrians, etc., and drivers' compliance can reduce accidents greatly.

Skipping exams

Apropos of Find absentees after each class 12 exam: Min to CEOs (Mar 17). The reason for this absenteeism is purely the fear of examinations. The students lost touch with their studies during the pandemic. Children and parents must be counseled by teachers, psychologists, and psychiatrists if need be!

Indian participants will include senior officials from the Ministries of Defence and External Affairs besides the Service HQ. Senior veterans will also attend the conclave." Contingents from over 20 countries will be participating in AfIndEx.

Calling it a landmark event, sources said the event "will provide a fillip to cooperation between the Indian Army and the armies of African nations while simultaneously addressing the capacity enhancement requirements of African armies."

The objective of the conclave is to continue to build upon the initiatives taken to strengthen India-Africa relations, with a focus on enhancing peace and security. It is also meant to "learn from the African experience in cooperative security and management of security crisis situations.

The 'Broad Program AfIndEx' is to commence from March 21 at Pune and will culminate on March 30. All modes of worship reach the same goal, says Bhagwat

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

DIFFERENT people may have different modes of worship or practicing their faith, but all ways reach the same goal and this essence of universal truth must be realised by all and sundry, Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS)chief Mohan Bhagwat said on Friday.

Speaking after releasing the Urdu version of Samveda, he underlined the Vedas' acknowledgement of various paths undertaken by people to realise the spiritual truth. "This must be realised and the world needs this understanding at this time when the world is conflict and strife is on the rise."

Samveda, the oldest Veda of Hinduism, has been translated into Urdu by a noted film script writer Md Iqbal Durrani, who termed the Samveda as a way to show the true meaning of life to the people of all faiths. Quoting various parables sourced to ancient texts, the RSS chief said that the truth remains truth with everyone, though it can be perceived in different ways or realised through different practices.

Stressing the need of having stronger practice of interfaith harmony, Bhagwat said that the Samveda shows the ways for it to all.

Govt okays single window clearance for film shoots

PARVEZ SULTAN @New Delhi

WITH an aim to attract international filmmakers and encourage them to shoot in India, the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting (I&B) is working to minimise bureaucratic complexities of approvals required from multiple authorities including state governments and other agencies.

Apruva Chandra, secretary, I&B ministry, said that the Film Facilitation Office (FFO) portal is being revamped to change the entire set up to ease the process for film shooting and has involved 'Invest India' for the same. "We have plans to develop the FFO portal into a single window platform for various permissions for filming. It is being revamped in coordination with various state governments and other agencies such as Indian Railways and the Archeological Survey of India to simplify the procedures...We also want provisions to track incentives being given on the website because sometimes, it is delayed," said Chandra.

The FFO was set up in 2016 to promote and facilitate film shootings by foreign filmmakers in India. 'Invest India' is a government initiative to facilitate and empower all investors under its 'Make in India' programme to establish, operate and expand their businesses in India. "Invest India, with a vast network across the country and abroad, it is expected that FFO will cater to bring in more projects to the country," added ministry officials.

The ministry has also launched incentive schemes for shooting of foreign film in India and audiovisual co-production. Projects that have been granted official 'co-production' status after April 2022 are eligible for the incentives. India has signed 'audio-visual co-production agreement' with 16 countries so far. Latest agreement was signed with Australia last week. The Government is simultaneously negotiating for signing of 'audio visual co-production agreement' with 15 more countries - Mexico, Hungary, South Africa Argentina, Singapore, Tajikistan, Belgium, United States of Emirates, Turkey, Ecuador, Peru, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Morocco and Mauritius.

According to the officials, few filmmakers were coming to India as the country has no incentive scheme. An international film production company can claim incentive upto 30 percent (maximum ₹2 crore) on qualifying expenditure. "We know ₹2 crore incentive is not a big amount but this will help those niche and small budget productions that face difficulties to get finances. But we are open to increasing the ceiling if any big budget film comes. We may consider the proposal," said officials.

Probe panel on Rahul can't be set up under Rule 223

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

AS the BJP has sharpened its attack on Congress leader Rahul Gandhi over his 'democracy under siege' remarks and demanded a special parliamentary committee to consider his expulsion from the Lok Sabha, experts have said that a panel similar to the one that probed 2008 cash-for-votes scam can't be formed under Rule 223 as both cases are not similar. PDT Achary, who served as the Lok Sabha Secretary General when the UPA government set up a special Parliamentary committee in 2005 on the cash-for-query scam, pointed out that a special committee is formed when cases of serious nature are involved.

In a letter to Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla, BJP MP Nishikant Dubey said that he is giving notice under Rule 223 of Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in House on the 'contemptuous and unbecoming behavior' of the MP over his remarks at Cambridge University. Dubey also sought to set up a special Parliamentary committee on the lines of the one formed in 2008 to probe the cash-for-votes scam. Speaking to this newspaper, Constitutional expert Achary said a notice under Rule 223 can only be referred to the privilege committee.

Rule 223 allows a member to raise a question, with the Speaker's permission in Parliament, on the matter of breach of privilege committed by a member or a committee. "Rule 223 discusses the question of Parliamentary privilege. Dubey has already given a breach of privilege notice against Rahul Gandhi over his February 7 remarks on PM in Parliament. Under rule 223, Dubey cannot ask for a separate committee to probe Rahul's remarks," he said. Achary said in 2005, a committee led by Pawan Kumar Bansal was constituted after a sting operation exposed 11 MPs involved in a 'Cash-for-Query' scam accepting cash in exchange for raising questions in Parliament. Out of the 11, six MPs were from BJP. "A special committee can be formed after a motion is moved in the House. The panel will be given investigative power by the House. Investigative power is within the House's ambit," he said.

Cash-for-query scam an example

In 2005, a Committee led by Pawan Kumar Bansal was constituted after a sting operation exposed 11 MPs involved in a 'Cash-for-Query' scam accepting cash in exchange for raising questions in the Parliament. Out of the 11, six MPs were from BJP. Similarly, a Parliamentary Committee was formed in 2008 to probe 'cash-for-vote' scam.

'EXPEDITE LAND ACQUISITION OF NH PROJECTS'

Union minister of tourism and culture G Kishan Reddy has written to Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao urging him to ensure that the pending land acquisition of national highway projects worth `32,383 crore in the state is expedited. In his letter to Telangana CM, the minister said that to complete the required land acquisition for the 11 national highway projects of 750 kilometres length, approximately 4,332 hectares of land is required. However, only 284 hectares of land has been handed over to the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) by the state government. "I have written a letter to KCR asking him to take measures to provide the rest of the land on time and to cooperate in completing the projects on schedule," Reddy posted a tweet in Telugu and also released the letter and the details of the projects that were currently awaiting land acquisition to be complete.

Not a practice to seek RAW reports on judges' appointment, says Rijiju

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

UNION Law Minister Kiren Rijiju on Friday said it is not a general practice to seek Research and Analysis wing (R&AW) report on proposals for appointment of judges in high courts and the Supreme Court. Feedback from R&AW is sought only in extraordinary circumstances that involve issues related to national security.

Responding to a question put forth by MP Manish Tewari on whether it is a fact that the Supreme Court collegium cited reports by R&AW regarding the sexuality of an advocate and whether it is the practice of the Government to use R&AW reports for appointment of judges, the Law Minister said: "The Supreme Court Collegium (SCC) vide its minutes dated January 18, 2023 cited the report of the Research & Analysis Wing (R&AW), which inter-alia mentioned the sexuality of an advocate whose name has been recommended for appointment as a judge of the Delhi High Court.

"Generally, it is not a practice to seek R&AW reports on proposals for appointment of judges in high courts and the Supreme Court except in extraordinary circumstances, involving issues related to national security." He further said that as per the Memorandum of Procedure for Appointment of Judges of High Courts, the proposals recommended by the high court collegium for appointment as high court judges are to be considered in the light of such other reports/inputs as may be available to the government for assessing the suitability in respect of the names under consideration. Accordingly, Intelligence Bureau (IB) inputs are obtained and provided to the SCC for making assessment on the recommendees."

The statements assume significance against the backdrop of recent resolution of the Supreme Court Collegium dismissing the Centre's objections to appointing advocate Saurabh Kirpal as Delhi High Court judge on the basis of R&AW reports.

Responding to another question of whether the sexual orientation of an Indian citizen is legally/constitutionally germane to their nomination as a judge and whether the government takes into consideration political leanings and online posts for consideration of appointment of judges, Rijiju, while referring to the recent ruling on advocate Victoria Gowri's appointment, said that merit selection is the dominant method for judicial selections and the candidates to be selected must possess high integrity, honesty, skill, high order of emotional stability, firmness, serenity, legal soundness, ability and endurance.

WHAT THE LAW SAYS

As per the Memorandum of Procedure for Appointment of Judges of High Courts, the proposals recommended by the high court collegium for appointment as high court judges are to be considered in the light of such other reports/inputs as may be available to the government for assessing the suitability in respect of the names under consideration, said Union Law Minister Kiren Rijiju

Water stress to hit India's food production by 2050, says report

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @New Delhi

A new report on global temperatures and food situation has revealed that India will face a reduction of over 16 % in food supply due to water and heat stress in 2050, increasing the food insecure population by over 50%. However, the report placed China at the top, where food supply would be reduced by 22.4%, followed by South America 19.4%.

The report says many Asian countries, including China and ASEAN members, who are currently net food exporters, would become net food importers by 2050. The water stress means the demand for clean or usable water is exponentially growing while sources are shrinking. India ranks 13 globally on the facing water stress in 2019.

The water supply availability in India is between 1100-1197 billion cubic meters (bcm). In contrast, the demand is expected to grow from 550-710 bcm in 2010 to around 900-1,400 bcm in 2050.

The report is titled 'The What, Why and How of the World Water Crisis: Global Commission on the Economics of Water Phase 1 Review and Findings' published by Global Commission on the Economics of Water(GCEW).

The Commission was launched in 2022 at the World Economic Forum and is composed of 17 experts, community leaders and practitioners from a broad range of science, policy and front-line practice expertise from all regions of the globe. The report made projections to 2050, and how the situation will impacts on global irrigated food production and food security till the year 2050 from the base year of 2014.

'ADDRESS WATER STRESS URGENTLY'

The report points out that India's poor water policy design is a major barrier in addressing water stress

The report emphasises trade to mitigate water scarcity.

It calls for water-constrained countries to import water-intensive farm products than producing it domestically

It targets India's energy subsidies to farmers, which promote greater water use, thus leading to aquifer depletion

Mega textile parks to come up in seven states

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

IN a bid to attract big-ticket investments and create jobs on a large scale, the Centre will set up mega textile parks in seven states. Announcing the PM MITRA (mega integrated textile region and apparel) parks in Tamil Nadu, Telangana, Karnataka, Maharashtra, Gujarat, Madhya Pradesh and Uttar Pradesh here on Friday, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said these parks will attract massive investments and create lakhs of jobs in the coming years.

Taking to Twitter, the PM said: "The PM MITRA mega textile parks will provide state-of-the-art infrastructure for the textiles sector... It will be a great example of 'Make in India' and 'Make for the World".

In another tweet, Modi said: "PM MITRA mega textile parks will boost the textiles sector in line with 5F (farm to fibre to factory to fashion to foreign) vision." Union textiles minister Piyush Goyal said the parks will be set up with an outlay of ₹4,445 crore as the biggest ever initiative for infrastructure in this sector. "These parks will create 20 lakh direct/indirect jobs and attract an estimated ₹70,000 crore of domestic and foreign investment," he added.

Goyal described the decision as "India's big leap towards becoming a global textiles hub".

India is already one of the largest exporters of textiles and apparel in the world.

Rahul permanent part of anti-India toolkit: Nadda

OUTSIDE Parliament, while BJP president J P Nadda charged that Rahul had become a permanent part of the toolkit working against India, Congress chief Mallikarjun Kharge in his riposte said those who are 'anti-nationals' themselves must not preach about patriotism and must learn from the Congress instead.

Congress leader K C Venugopal, in his privilege notice to the Rajya Sabha Chairman, drew his attention to the PM's remarks on the Gandhis not using the Nehru surname during a speech in the House.

The mocking remarks were insulting and defamatory against the members of the Nehru family, particularly Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi who are Lok Sabha MPs, he said.

DIASPORA TAPPED TO FUND KHALISTAN MOVEMENT

AMIT MUKHERJEE @New Delhi

AS the motive and operations of pro-Khalistan operatives, who are active in select pockets of Punjab, are now exposed, the government is focusing on blocking the funds that are being pumped in by overseas terrorists and disruptors. According to officers in the Union home ministry, which is closely monitoring the developments in Punjab, while some portions of the funds and logistic support are coming from terror-gangster-drug smuggling network and to a certain extent from ISI through Pak-based pro-Khalistan entities (PKEs), "the main source for terror and radical funding in Punjab is foreign-based PKEs and donors who are collecting and channelising donation from Indian diaspora". With the decimation of organised Sikh militancy in Punjab, many militants fled India and pro-movement organisations shifted bases to offshore locations. While many found refuge in Pakistan, others shifted to countries with significant Sikh diaspora.

Indore's super rich are house loan defaulters

State's commercial capital Indore has a ₹100 crore club and those who are a part of it, are big defaulters of bank loans, despite zipping around in snazzy cars worth ₹2 crores, alleged Congress MLA Laxman Singh in the MP Vidhan Sabha recently. Singh, who is the younger brother of ex-CM and Congress MP Digvijaya Singh, made the allegations while MP CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan gave a vote of thanks to the Governor's address. "If you really want investments to come to MP, then first recover the big outstanding loans of those forming Indore's 100 Crore Club. Will you act against them?" Singh asked.

UP govt to rank all 75 districts on good governance

NAMITA BAJPAI @New Delhi

IN an innovative initiative to trigger healthy competition among the districts across the state, Uttar Pradesh is set to release its first ever District Good Governance Index (DGGI) soon wherein all the 75 districts across UP will be rated and ranked on the basis of their performance in around a dozen key government sectors.

As per highly placed sources, under the initiative, which is likely to become an annual practice, the authorities concerned would identify the strengths and weaknesses of all districts in terms of governance so as to push them to improvise administration and make it more citizen-centric.

At present, the Indian Institute of Public Administration (IIPA) is busy finalising the report of analysis of the relevant data received from the departments and compiled it for the years 2019-20, 2020-21 and 2021-22, said sources.

They added that the report was expected to be released jointly by the Centre and the state government as the initiative was conceptualised by the Centre and the Uttar Pradesh government was asked to implement and execute it.

The Centre, which releases the Good Governance Index (GGI) for states, had shared the concept with the states asking the respective governments to develop a similar comprehensive District Good Governance Index encompassing administrative, economic, social, environmental, judicial and other criteria to make the administration more responsive.

Uproar in MP House persists over tribal woman's death

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

THE alleged murder of a young tribal woman by her OBC live-in partner and the subsequent death of a tribal youth in firing in protests over the woman's death outside a police outpost in Indore district on Wednesday continued to rock the Budget session of the Madhya Pradesh Assembly on Thursday.

The opposition Congress MLAs created a ruckus over the booking of the deceased tribal youth Bherulal and the deceased tribal woman's kin in an attempt-to-murder case pertaining to the attack on the police on Wednesday's protests.

Around 15 police personnel were hurt in the protests in which a police vehicle was set ablaze. The deceased's live-in partner belongs to the Patidar community.

The issue was raised in the Assembly on Friday, after the question hour. Former home minister and senior Congress MLA Bala Bachchan, who had led a Congress delegation on Thursday to the site of the incident and houses of victim families raised the issue of police registering an attempt to murder case against the deceased woman's kin and tribal youth.

2 masterminds among 27 arrested in Assam class X science exam paper leak

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

TWO masterminds of Assam's Class 10 general science and Assamese papers' leak have fallen in the police net. Kumud Rajkhowa surrendered before the police on Friday soon after DGP GP Singh asked to him to give up or he would face strong action.

Rajkhowa is a science teacher at the Dafalakata Higher Secondary School in Lakhimpur. The other mastermind, Pranab Dutta, who is the headteacher and centre in-charge of Dafalakata Higher Secondary School in the district, was arrested on Thursday.

Singh told journalists 27 people – 14 adults and 13 "children in conflict with law" – were arrested. Four others, including a child, were detained and they were being arrested, he added. The minors were lodged in juvenile homes.

"It emerged during Investigation that Dutta had received 29 sets of question papers but mentioned 28 sets in the register. After stealing a copy of general science paper, he gave it to Rajkhowa. Rajkhowa then circulated to the students of his school and also sold it to some people," Singh said.

"When it was established on Thursday evening that Dutta had also stolen a copy of the Assamese paper and given it to Rajkhowa, we informed the chief minister (Himanta Biswa Sarma), the education minister (Ranoj Pegu) and senior officials in the government," the DGP said.

> Early this morning, we recovered the half-burnt remnants of the papers, taken out from the safe custody of local police, and sent the same to the forensic science laboratory for examination
> GP Singh, DGP

The Board of Secondary Education, Assam has rescheduled the exams of the two papers, much to the chagrin of the Class 10 students who continued with their protests.

"Early this morning, we recovered the half-burnt remnants of the papers, taken out (by Dutta) from the safe custody of local police, and sent the same to the forensic science laboratory for an examination," Singh said.

Dutta said he had received ₹ 5,000 from Rajkhowa but the police were not convinced. As he (Dutta) had purchased an SUV recently, the police were verifying the finances.

In poll year, Gehlot govt creates 19 new districts & 3 divisional HQ in Raj

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

RAJASTHAN Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot on Friday announced creating 19 new districts and 3 new divisional headquarters in the state in the election year. With this, the number of districts in the state has increased to 50. The number of divisional headquarters has also gone up from 7 to 10. Jaipur district is now diviced into Jaipur North and South. Dudu and Kotputli have been made new districts.

This way, Jaipur district has been divided into four parts. Gehlot made this announcement in the assembly. The creation of new districts by breaking Jaipur is also being seen as an election strategy by the government.

At present, Congress is holding Jaipur Heritage Municipal Corporation, while BJP is holding Jaipur Greater. Jaipur has also been divided with an intention of hoisting the Congress flag again in the Jaipur's heritage area in the coming elections.

Banswara, Pali, Sikar are the new divisions created. But it is still not clear which districts will work under these headquarters. These divisions have been done from Shekhawati to Sikar, Marwar to Pali and Mewar's tribal belt to Banswara.

Meanwhile, Jodhpur, the chief minister's home district, has also been divided into Jodhpur East, Jodhpur West and Phalodi. Similarly, divisions have been cut from many other districts to make new districts, like Sriganganagar to Anupgarh, Barmer to Balotra, Ajmer to Beawar and Kekri, Bharatpur to Deeg, Nagaur to Didwana-Kuchamancity, Sawai Madhopur to Gangapur City, Alwar to Khairthal, Sikar to Neem ka Thana, Udaipur to Salumbar, Jalore to Sanchore and Bhilwara to Shahpura .

Jaipur district divided into 4 parts

Jaipur district has been divided into four parts. Gehlot said in the assembly. The creation of new districts by breaking Jaipur is being seen as an election strategy by the government. It also inteds to hoist Congress flag in the Jaipur's heritage area.

The tenure of the High Power Committee, headed by retired IAS Ramlubhaya, was recently extended for six months to give suggestions to the government regarding the formation of new districts. The leaders of 60 places had submitted separate memorandums to the Ramlubhaya Committee demanding new districts.

The Chief Minister also approved ₹37 crore for various projects that aim to increase irrigation efficiency and prevent water wastage in canals and dams.

Liquor & drugs worth ₹6K cr seized in 'dry' Guj

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@Ahmedabad

DESPITE claims of a successful liquor ban, the Gujarat government admitted in the Assembly on Friday that liquor and narcotic substances worth ₹6,413 crore have been seized in various parts of the state over the past two years.

Of the seized contraband, Indian Made Foreign Liquor (IMFL) was worth ₹197.56 crore, country-made liquor ₹3.99 crore and beer bottles worth ₹10.51 crore.

The figures came in government's response to a series of questions by Congress MLAs. Minister of State for Home Harsh Sanghavi said in two years, from December 2022, the police had confiscated alcohol worth ₹212 crore, including both domestically produced alcohol and IMFL.

"During the same time period, the authorities seized illegal drugs worth ₹6,201 crore from various parts of the state. The narcotics included heroin, charas, opium, cannabis, and methamphetamine. While most criminals involved in the illegal trade have been apprehended, nearly 3,700 suspects remain at large," said Sanghavi.

Senior Congress lawmaker Shailesh Parmar questioned the minister on the number of top suspects who have been detained, pointing out that most of the detained comprised only minor offenders.

Replying to Congress MLA, Sanghavi said the state police, working with federal authorities, have detained primary suspects in 14 incidents involved drug seizures. In one such instance, the Pandi brothers were charged with smuggling enormous quantities of cannabis (ganja) from their native Odisha to Gujarat.

The seizures from the Pandi brothers were made by the Gujarat police as well as their Odisha counterparts. The Pandi brothers shipped large amounts of cannabis from Odisha's Ganjam district to Gujarat, said the minister. "The police crackdown on drug dealers has served as a model for other states," said the minister.

On July 25, 2022, at least 42 people died after consuming country-made alcohol, and more than 97 of them ended up in hospitals.

Since Gujarat's foundation in 1960, it is illegal to sell and consume alcohol in the state.

According to the government's reply in the Assembly, the districts with the most narcotic and alcohol hauls are Vadodara (₹1,620.7 crore), Bharuch (₹1,389.91 cr), and Kutch (₹ 1,040.57 crore.

In terms of IMFL seizure, Ahmedabad district topped the list with 28.23 crore worth of liquor. The second one is Surat with (₹21.42 crore), Vadodara (₹14.61 crore), and Rajkot (₹13.84 crore." it said.

Congress spokesperson Parthivraisinh Kathavadia told TNIE that "according to data provided by the state government, the amount of narcotics seized has increased more than 11-fold in comparison to the previous years."

"In the last two years, drugs worth ₹6,201 crore have been seized. It demonstrates the law and order situation is not deteriorating. Furthermore, despite a significant increase in drug-related cases, the conviction rate in such cases has dropped to 1%, "Kathavadia said.

Of the 40,000 people who can legally consume alcohol on the health grounds, Ahmedabad district accounts for almost 30% of all permits issued (13,034).

There are 8,054 health permits in Surat district and 1,989 in Porbandar district. Ahmedabad, Surat, Vadodara, and Rajkot hold 70% of health permits currently. There are 5,547 visitor permits issued in the state, while the number of tourist permits is 3,729.

HAUL IN 2 YEARS

Liquor has been banned in Gujarat since the state was born in 1960. However, liquor and drug sale has gone on all these years across the state. In the last two years, liquor and drug hauls have been spectacular.

ICC WARRANT AGAINST PUTIN JUST THE START: KYIV

KYIV/ MOSCOW

UKRAINE'S presidency said Friday the International Criminal Court's decision to issue an arrest warrant against Russian President Vladimir Putin was just an initial step in restoring justice over Russia's invasion.

"The Hague Chamber of the International Criminal Court issued an arrest warrant for Putin. This is just the beginning," Ukraine's presidential chief of staff Andriy Yermak said on social media.

"The world received a signal that the Russian regime is criminal and its leadership and henchmen will be held accountable," Ukraine's Prosecutor General Andriy Kostin said on social media.

"This is a historic decision for Ukraine and the entire system of international law," Kostin added. "World leaders will think three times before shaking his hand or sitting down at the negotiating table with him." Ukraine's presidential chief of staff, Andriy Yermak, said the move was "just the beginning". Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmytro Kuleba also welcomed the news. "(The) wheels of justice are turning. I applaud the ICC decision," Kuleba said.

"International criminals will be held accountable for stealing children and other international crimes."

Ukrainian presidential aide Mykhaylo Podolyak said the decision was "a clear signal to (Russian) elites of what will happen to them and why it won't be as before".

Meanwhile, Moscow dismissed decisions by the International Criminal Court on Friday as having "no meaning" for Russia. "The decisions of the International Criminal Court have no meaning for our country, including from a legal point of view," Russian foreign ministry spokeswoman Maria Zakharova said on social media.

"Russia does not cooperate with this body and possible 'recipes' for arrest coming from the international court will be legally void as far as we are concerned," she said without referring to Putin by name.

"Russia is not a party of the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court and bears no obligations under it," she added. Former Russian President Dmitry Medvedev on Friday compared the International Criminal Court's arrest warrant to toilet paper.

"The International Criminal Court has issued an arrest warrant against Vladimir Putin. No need to explain WHERE this paper should be used."

CAN AN ICC PUNISH PUTIN?

Set up in 2002, the ICC is a court of last resort for the world's worst crimes, when countries cannot or will not prosecute suspects

RUSSIA'S CRIME:
Forced transfer of Ukrainian children to areas under Russian control

HOW IT WORKS

The ICC's Office of the Prosecutor will see if there is sufficient evidence of crimes

After gathering evidence and identifying a suspect, the prosecutor requests ICC judges to issue an arrest warrant

The court relies on countries to make arrests and transfer suspects to the ICC's custody

Trial begins. Prosecution must prove beyond reasonable doubt the guilt of the accused

Judges consider all evidence, then issue a verdict and sentence Sentences are served in countries that have agreed to enforce ICC's sentences.

The judges can sentence a person to up to 30 years of imprisonment

Xi Jinping

Russia, China to step up strategic relations

BEIJING

RUSSIAN President Vladimir Putin and Chinese leader President Xi Jinping will sign accords ushering in a "new era" of ties in Moscow next week, the Kremlin said Friday.

Xi will be in Russia from Monday to Wednesday, Beijing and Moscow announced, for talks with his strategic ally just over a year into Russia's military campaign in Ukraine.

Kremlin advisor Yuri Ushakov said Putin and Xi would sign a key declaration "on strengthening (the two countries') comprehensive partnership and strategic relations entering a new era."

China's foreign ministry called Xi's trip "a visit for peace" that aimed to "practice true multilateralism... improve global governance and make contributions to the development and progress of the world".

The two leaders would exchange views on relations between their countries, and major international and regional issues, ministry spokesman Wang Wenbin told reporters.

"The world has entered a new period of turmoil," he said.

"China will uphold its objective and fair position on the Ukrainian crisis and play a constructive role in promoting peace talks," he added.

In comments carried by Russian news agencies, Ushakov said the Kremlin "highly valued" Beijing's "restrained and considered position" on the conflict. Xi, 69, began a third five-year term as president this month in a break with long-standing precedent.

His visit to Russia comes just over a year after Putin, 70, sent troops to Ukraine, kicking off a conflict that has isolated Moscow on the international stage. China, a major Russian ally, has sought to position itself as a neutral party, urging Moscow and Kyiv to resolve it through negotiations.

In a 12-point position paper on the conflict last month, China called for dialogue and respect for all countries' territorial sovereignty. PTI

"The agreement foresees the renewal for 120 days. There are discussions ongoing and we're not going to speculate on what is going to happen," UN spokeswoman Alessandra Vellucci told a press conference

No change in strategy: New TCS CEO

Experts say given Krithi's long tenure at TCS, he will maintain operational performance intact

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

A day after announcing a major leadership change in the country's largest IT services company Tata Consultancy Services, both Rajesh Gopinathan, who is resigning from his CEO and MD post and CEO-designate K Krithivasan (pic) came together on Friday to face media.

Amid speculation over the possible reasons for incumbent Gopinathan's exit from the company, the management tried to allay fears of any major 'upheaval' in the company. There would not be change in strategy and that the focus would be to continue core set of beliefs and principles and fine-tune them going forward, said Krithivasan as he and his predecessor resorted to occasional cracking of jokes to ease the tension.

Krithivasan, who is based in Chennai, on a lighter note, said moving to Mumbai from Chennai was tougher than becoming CEO. Though Gopinathan said he has no clue what he would do after his stint with TCS, he said he never allowed himself to think about something else while sitting as CEO. Gopinathan, who hasn't written his resume after campus, said TCS will be an integral part of his life. "I can't tell you how happy and light I feel. In last 48 hours it is liberating." He said he wants to make sure that transition is smooth.

The new CEO-designate, who has been with TCS for about 35 years, holds a Bachelor's Degree in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Madras and a Master's Degree in Industrial and Management Engineering from IIT Kanpur.

Management tries to allay fears of major changes

Amid speculation over possible reasons for Gopinathan's exit, the management tried to allay fears of any major 'upheaval' in the company. There would not be change in strategy and that the focus would be to continue core set of beliefs and principles and fine-tune them going forward, said Krithivasan

Stressing on customers and employees who drive the company's growth, Krithivasan also said every change in the market provides new opportunities. "We will continue to focus on core principles and fine-tune as we go along."

He added as the market situation changes, they would recalibrate what they had to do.

Meanwhile, experts said Gopinathan's departure from TCS is surprising, as he has led the company for only six years and was expected to continue for longer term given his age (52 years). In its report on TCS, Motilal Oswal Financial Services said while the firm's growth has trailed peers like Infosys recently, it has handled external pressures, including a transition to digital delivery and the Covid impact relatively well despite its size.

Experts said given Krithi's long tenure at TCS, the firm would maintain its operational performance intact. "He oversees the largest industry unit at the company (32% of FY22 revenues) and has experience across roles, including delivery, CRM, program management and sales, which should help TCS maintain its track record of seamless transition. We do not expect meaningful leadership attrition due to this change," MOFSL said.

NCLT approves merger of HDFC with HDFC Bank

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

THE Mumbai bench of The National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) on Friday approved the merger of the country's largest mortgage lender Housing Development Finance Corporation (HDFC) with the largest private lender HDFC Bank, paving way for a financial giant with a balance sheet of ₹18 lakh crore.

After the merger HDFC Bank will remain the second-largest bank in India but it will be twice the size of its rival ICICI Bank. HDFC has already received approvals from the Reserve Bank of India, Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi), Pension Fund Regulatory & Development Authority (PFRDA) and Competition Commission of India (CCI). It has also received a no objection certificate from both the stock exchanges. The merger of HDFC twins, as they are popularly known, merger is expected to be completed by the second or third quarter of financial year2023-24. "We wish to inform you that the NCLT has, vide its Order of today i.e. March 17, 2023, sanctioned the Scheme," said HDFC Bank in filing to the Bombay Stock exchange.

In the previous NCLT hearing last month, the counsel of the two companies said that the merger had been approved by shareholders with an overwhelming majority and no objections were received by on the proposed merger.

The merger viewed as the largest in Indian corporate history is valued at over $40 billion. HDFC and HDFC Bank had announced in April last year that their respective boards have approved an all-stock amalgamation of the former into the latter, subject to regulatory approvals, thus creating a banking behemoth.

The merger will result in significant market-share gains for HDFC Bank, given HDFC is the largest financier of mortgages in India. After the complete deal and merger, existing shareholders of HDFC will own 41 per cent of the HDFC bank.

Meanwhile, HDFC Ltd has informed the exchanges its board will consider issuance of unsecured redeemable nonconvertible debentures in tranches.

FOREIGN AIRLINES STRUGGLE TO REPATRIATE DOLLARS FROM PAKISTAN

Foreign airlines have reportedly warned debt-ridden Pakistan that it has become 'very challenging' for these carriers as $290 million of funds were stuck in the country as of January. The country is grappling with high external debt, a weak local currency and dwindling foreign exchange reserves. Analysts believe the country is at risk of default. The International Air Transport Association (IATA) said $290 million of funds were stuck in the country as of January this year, up nearly a third since December last year, according to the Financial Times newspaper report on Thursday. Pakistan is holding the second-largest amount of foreign currency from airlines globally, after only Nigeria, the report said.

Amid global financial turmoil, RBI Guv says 'India is resilient'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Kochi

AMID the turmoil in the global financial markets, Reserve Bank of India (RBI) Governor Shaktikanta Das on Friday said the Indian economy remains resilient and is expected to be the fastest-growing major economy in the world.

Speaking at the K P Hormis Memorial Commemorative Lecture, instituted in memory of the founder of Aluva-headquartered Federal Bank, here, the RBI governor also said India's external debt was "within manageable limits" as per all international standards and methods of assessment. In contrast, the aggressive monetary policy and tightening by central banks since early 2022 and the consequent appreciation of the US dollar have led to several economies with a high share of external debt becoming highly vulnerable to debt distress. He said India would post a growth rate of 7% this year.

"Our financial sector remains stable; the worst of inflation is behind us; and the Indian Rupee has exhibited the least volatility among its peer currencies," Das said. Commenting on the recent developments in the US banking system, the RBI governor said it has brought to the fore the criticality of banking sector regulation and supervision. India has been able to avoid the global meltdown due to the significant strengthening of RBI's supervisory systems in recent years through measures that include a unified and harmonised supervisory approach for commercial banks, NBFCs and urban cooperative banks.

"These developments in the US drive home the importance of ensuring prudent asset liability management, robust risk management and sustainable growth in liabilities and assets; undertaking periodic stress tests; and building up capital buffers for any unanticipated future stress," the governor said.

Das said India has assumed the leadership position of G20 in an environment of formidable geo-economic shifts, which have vitiated the global macroeconomic outlook. Globalisation of inflation to multidecadal high levels and subdued global growth and trade have posed policy challenges to almost every country in the world.

US ROUT SHOWS DANGERS OF CRYPTOS

KOCHI: The rout in the US financial markets brought out the dangers of cryptocurrencies and similar assets, according to RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das. "They (troubles in US financial markets) also bring out that cryptocurrencies/assets or the like can be a real danger to banks, whether directly or indirectly." He added that the RBI has taken necessary steps in all these areas.

Cabinet nod for listing of renewable energy mini-ratna IREDA

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE government on Friday approved listing of IREDA, a CPSE under Ministry of New & Renewable Energy (MNRE) on the stock exchanges through an initial public offer (IPO) by part sale of government's stake in it to raise funds.

The government said the instant decision has been necessitated due to change in capital structure following infusion of capital to the tune of ₹1,500 crore by the government in March 2022.

"This decision supersedes earlier CCEA decision taken in June, 2017 for allowing IREDA (Indian Renewable Energy Development Agency) to issue 13.90 crore fresh equity shares of ₹10.00 each to the public on book building basis through IPO," reads the press note.

Now, the Department of Investment and Public Asset Management (DIPAM) will drive the listing process. "The IPO will help in unlocking the value of government's investment in the one hand and on the other will provide an opportunity to the public to acquire stake in the national asset and draw benefits therefrom," reads the press note.

Besides, it will help IREDA in raising a part of its capital requirement for meeting growth plans without depending on the public exchequer, and improve governance through greater market discipline and transparency arising from listing requirements and disclosures.

IREDA is currently a wholly owned Government of India, Mini-ratna. In another decision the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs granted exemption to NTPC from the extant guidelines of delegation of power to Maharatna CPSEs for making investment in NTPC Green Energy Limited (NGEL), a Subsidiary Company of NTPC Ltd. The cabinet also exempted NGEL's investment in NTPC Renewable Energy Limited (NREL) and its other JVs/ subsidiaries subject to a ceiling of 15% of its net worth beyond the monetary ceiling of Rs 5,000 crore to Rs. 7,500 crore, towards achieving a target of 60 GW Renewable Energy (RE) Capacity by NTPC. NTPC, through this investment in RE sector, aims to add 60 GW of Renewable Energy Capacity by 2032 which will help the Country to achieve Net Zero' emissions by 2070.

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

TATA CONSUMER PRODUCTS has dropped its plans to acquire stake in the country's largest packaged drinking water maker Bisleri. The company on Friday informed stock exchanges that it has stopped negotiations to buy stake in Bisleri.

"The Company wishes to update that it has now ceased negotiations with Bisleri with regard to a potential transaction and to confirm that it has not entered into any definitive agreement or binding commitment on this matter," said Tata Consumer Products in a regulatory filing to the Bombay Stock Exchange on Friday. "The Company had clarified that it evaluates various strategic opportunities for growth and expansion of its business, on an ongoing basis, and pursuant to this, the Management of the Company remained in discussions with various parties, including Bisleri International Private Limited (Bisleri)," the filing added.

Tata Consumer Products was in talks to buy majority stake in Bisleri for Rs 6,000-7,000 crore. According to sources, the talks have failed due to disagreement on valuations.

Currently, Bisleri has over 122 operational plants and 4,500 distributors across India and in neighbouring countries.

In 1949, Jayantilal Chauhan founded soft drinks maker Parle Group, which acquired Bisleri from an Italian entrepreneur in 1969, according to its website. It has a 60% share in India's bottled mineral water market.

While the pen will be manufactured at Luxor's plant at Uttarakhand, the transfer of technology from Schneider towards complete local manufacture and know-how will be done gradually. The overall pen industry in India is worth Rs 3,000 crore, growing at 7-8% CAGR. Luxor's share in it is about 22 per cent. "We are valued at about Rs 750 crore, and are growing at 15-20%. We are aiming to be a Rs 1,000-crore company in the next 2-3 years," concluded Pooja.

SVB crisis: IT industry may see fewer BFSI deals

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THE Indian IT industry, which has been facing macroeconomic challenges, might witness further slowdown in BFSI (Banking, Financial Services and Insurance) deals due to the recent collapse of Silicon Valley Bank (SVB).

Both Wedbush Securities and JP Morgan's recent reports indicated that the crisis might delay deal ramp-ups and push back new order closures. JP Morgan said TCS and Infosys have the highest exposure to regional banks in the United States.

Peter Bendor- Samuel, CEO of Everest Group, a research firm, told TNIE that the direct impact of SVB crisis on the Indian IT industry will be modest but the indirect could be more significant.

In case of direct impact, this is going to have a negative effect on the high-tech customers particularly the smaller start-ups. "That said this is a relatively small part of the portfolio and not a big deal in the grand scheme of things," he said. However, in case of indirect impact, this is creating economic waves well beyond the start-ups, and could be triggering other bank failures as well as contributing to further economic uncertainty which will negatively affect the Indian industry.

SVB crisis may delay deal ramp-ups

Both Wedbush Securities and JP Morgan's recent reports indicated that the crisis might delay deal ramp-ups and push back new order closures. JP Morgan said TCS and Infosys have the highest exposure to regional banks in the United States.

"We are already facing some hesitancy in initiating new projects and this will further contribute to the unease and slow growth," he said. However, he added that although growth has come down it is still healthy but not at the post pandemic levels. The BFSI sector draws the bulk of IT companies' revenue.

Silicon Valley Bank's collapse is likely to be felt across the technology companies globally over the coming years, said Roshan Shetty, Chief Revenue Officer, Sonata Software.

GAYATRI AND TREESA MAKING NET GAINS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Chennai

Treesa Jolly (R) & Gayatri Gopichand face Baek Ha Na & Lee So Hee next | AP

THE signs were ominous over the last year or so. They may look fresh out of school but they are quite a pro when it comes to badminton on court. Gayatri Gopichand (20) and Treesa Jolly (19) exhibited just that on Friday by putting up a performance that could go down in history books.

The duo showed they have plenty of fight in them on the day, pulling off a three-game win (21-14, 18-21, 21-12) over China's Li Wen Mei and Lui Xuan Xuan in just over an hour. This headline-grabbing win, which put them in the women's doubles semifinals and in contention for the top prize, also showed that they have all the tools to rub shoulders with the best on their day. In this very tournament, the young Indian combination had punched above their weight to reach this stage of the competition.

Having shown that their feat last year was no fluke, the World No 17 pair are now in sight of something that has never been accomplished before by an Indian doubles pair in the history of the competition. Given that they have quietly gone about their business (even when they have faced early setbacks), picking brains on tour, learning from their mistakes, all the fine aspects of the sport, it's fair to say they are in a position of strength to do the impossible.

It's also a chance for Gayatri to emulate her father Pullela Gopichand. And in a way the father-daughter's story is similar. Like Gayatri and Treesa, Gopichand was far from favourite to claim the title. Against all odds, Gopichand had become just the second Indian to win the coveted title in 2001 in men's singles.

History or not, they are not going down without a fight. The belief is certainly there having come so far. "We're going for the title," Gayatri was quoted as saying in the BWF release. "We're confident that we're as good as any of the top pairs, definitely. We're going to give our 100 per cent no matter what, and we're going to keep fighting till the end. Let's see what happens," she added.

The fact that they have been part of the tour, observing their rivals up close has helped their case. While last year's performance came as a bit of a surprise, this time they were better-prepared. "Last time the excitement was so high. We hadn't even qualified, we were in the reserves list. We wanted to play the All England at least once. But this time we knew we would get an entry for this tournament, and we'd prepared well. Last year we just couldn't sleep as we were so excited. But this time feels normal," Treesa said.

That level of maturity over the course of a year is another factor that has certainly made them stronger. It's easy to get carried away for anyone given that they are flirting with history. They'll hope to maintain that attitude when they take on South Korean duo of Baek Ha Na and Lee So Hee next.

Starc contrast for Rahul

After being dropped in the Test series, batter stands tall to take hosts home by five wickets

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

Ravindra Jadeja (L) and KL Rahul added unbeaten 108 runs for the sixth wicket | AFP

AT some level, these are the kind of ODIs teams need when there is a World Cup looming. Who are the batters capable of getting dirty runs? Who are the seamers possessing the skillset to exploit the swing on offer? It's all about information gathering now and the think-tank will have had a few of those answers on Friday.

In conditions where seamers had joy, both Ishan Kishan and Suryakumar Yadav failed their audition but KL Rahul, playing as a keeper, made his case no harm. The other big winner from the opening game at Mumbai was Ravindra Jadeja, who further enhanced his reputation as one of India's premier spin-bowling all-rounders. He picked up key wickets with the ball in the middle overs (the first time he picked two wickets in an ODI in over three years) before forming the spine of the run-chase with an unbeaten match-winning partnership of 108 with Rahul.

After opting to bowl on a typical Wankhede surface with something in it for everybody, the two Mohammeds, Siraj and Shami, showed the value in keeping the seam upright and letting the pitch do its thing. They challenged both edges and returned with combined figures of six for 46 in 11.4 overs.

One of those Shami wickets was a carbon copy of the way he removed Peter Handscomb in Ahmedabad. Against Cameron Green, the pacer got one to pitch on middle stump before a hint of movement beat the outside edge and hit the top of off. In the end, the visitors stumbled to 188 off 35.overs, an under-utilisation of the resources at their disposal. In fact, if not for Mitchell Marsh's rapid 81 off 65, they may have folded for under 150. At one point, the hosts were also in danger of being bowled out for under 150. Mitchell Starc and Marcus Stoinis extracted the same movement off the surface. Starc got the ball to move both ways — something he struggled to do in the Tests — and the Indian batters were clearly uncomfortable; perhaps, a sneak preview of what lies in store at The Oval in the final of the World Test Championships.

Cut to Mumbai and Kishan, Shubman Gill, Virat Kohli and Suryakumar Yadav were all gone in the first 10.2 overs.

This was when Hardik Pandya joined hands with Rahul, who had already survived a couple of nervy moments. He handled Starc's hat-trick ball by easing him through covers. What, though, worked for him is that a smallish run chase gave him the opportunity to work his way through the innings. It allowed him to work at his own pace and you could see that here, especially before he reached his 50.

With the ball moving corners, 15 of Rahul's first 19 balls were dots. But you could understand why he was being circumspect. Starc was on the verge of finishing his first spell while Sean Abbott was the second of Australia's two genuine quicks. See through this period before profiting later. He did just that; milking Green and Adam Zampa for 36 runs in the middle overs. That sequence also featured one chef's kiss of a slog sweep off Zampa that sailed over wide long on. It once re-iterated the value in having Rahul at No. 5 in white-ball cricket, especially in this format. The role clarity is greater and he can attack spin with greater conviction.

It was similar to the same kind of innings he played against Sri Lanka at Eden Gardens a few months ago. Chasing 216, Rahul, at No 5, walked in 3/62. His patient unbeaten 64 off 103 balls had taken India home on that occasion. India can seal the series at Visakhapatnam on Sunday. Brief scores: Australia 188 in 35.4 ovs (Marsh 81, Shami 3/17, Siraj 3/29) lost to India 191/5 in 39.5 ovs (Rahul 75 n.o, Jadeja 45 n.o, Starc 3/49).

Shashi looking to thrive in new weight category

ANMOL GURUNG @ Chennai

Shashi Chopra (L) beat Mwangi Teresiah in the 63kg round of 32 bout | PARVEEN NEGI

IN 2017, as many as five Indian women boxers had dazzled to claim the top prize in the Youth Women's World Championships in Guwahati. Competing against some of the budding aspirants from around the world, they had shone the brightest. As many as three winners from that group are now part of the ongoing IBA Women's World Championships in New Delhi.

Nitu Ghanghas, Sakshi Choudhary and Shashi Chopra are three Indians bidding to repeat that magical run at the senior level. The latter, especially, was one of the standouts because of her catchy boxing technique. Sporting a boyish look, the Haryana pugilist's clever footwork and style had belied her age (she was 17 then). It only seemed upwards for Shashi and the rest of the medallists.

However, it has been a difficult journey for Shashi. Nitu recently became a Commonwealth Games (2022) gold medallist and Sakshi has been there or thereabouts but Shashi, who was inspired to take up the sport after watching MC Mary Kom win an Olympic medal in 2012, has been mostly in the shadows, unable to cope with the rigours of the sport at the elite level, the demands of 57kg category (her initial choice) weighing her down. Injuries, a common theme for a lot of combat-sport athletes, has also halted her momentum over and over again. All that is behind her now. Having fought her way back to the fore, Shashi, who sports long hair now, is now looking to translate her promise to the senior level.

Results (Indians): Jaismine Lamboria bt Nyambega Beatrice Ambros (TAN) (RSC*); Sashi Chopra bt Mwangi Teresiah (KEN) 5-0; Shruti Yadav lost to Zhou Pan (CHN) 0-5. RSC: Referee Stops Contest.*

"This is my first major competition at the senior level. I have had injuries and I didn't participate in the last national championships as well. I participated in the recent nationals and won gold there to make a comeback," she said after an explosive start on Friday.

Shashi had won the aforementioned gold in the 63kg weight category. That change in weight category is something that seems to be working to her advantage, propelling her to the forefront again.

"I'm feeling very good. This was my first bout of the World Championships. I did what my coaches had asked me to do. I'm quite confident ahead of my next fight," Shashi, who outplayed Mwangi Teresiah of Kenya 5-0 on the day, said.

National chief coach Bhaskar Bhatt could not have been more pleased. Shashi and Bhaskar go back a long way. When Shashi became the youth world champ in 2017, it was Bhaskar who was ringside. Bhaskar felt that her decision to climb to a new weight category could prove to be beneficial now and, in the long run, give her the license to express herself inside the ring. "I think changing her weight category will help her a great deal. She will become a different boxer. She became a national champion in the new weight category and is here now," Bhatt said.

This is her first senior international competition in this new weight category. Shashi will hope Bhaskar's assessments will come to light.

Holders Real to meet Chelsea in CL quarters

AFP @ Paris

HOLDERS Real Madrid will play Chelsea in the quarterfinals of the Champions League for the second season running, while Manchester City were paired with Pep Guardiola's former side Bayern Munich in Friday's draw.

Serie A leaders Napoli take on AC Milan in an all-Italian showdown and Inter Milan face Portuguese league leaders Benfica. The winners of Real's tie against Chelsea will go on to face either City or Bayern in the semifinals, throwing open the possibility of an all-English last-four tie.

That also increases the chances of seeing an Italian team reach the final for the first time since Juventus in 2017, as Inter will play either Milan or Napoli in the last four should the Nerazzurri beat Benfica.

Real's path to what would be a 15th European Cup is starting to look remarkably like last season, when they beat Chelsea and City before defeating Liverpool in the final.

The quarterfinal first legs will be played on April 11 and 12, with Real entertaining Chelsea at the Santiago Bernabeu first before travelling to London a week later, and City at home to Bayern first.

Arsenal eliminated

Manchester United face record six-time winners Sevilla in the quarterfinals of the Europa League while Juventus will play Arsenal's conquerors Sporting for a place in the last four.

Roma take on Feyenoord in a repeat of last season's Europa Conference League final won by the Italians, with Bayer Leverkusen drawn on Friday against Union Saint-Gilloise of Belgium. Sporting sent Arsenal crashing out with a penalty shoot-out triumph after Pedro Goncalves's stunning equaliser, while Manchester United and Juventus eased.

Sporting trailed when Granit Xhaka put Premier League leaders Arsenal ahead at the Emirates Stadium. But Goncalves forced extra-time when he caught out Arsenal goalkeeper Aaron Ramsdale with a breathtaking strike from 46 yards out. Arsenal manager Mikel Arteta said the result was "a huge blow" and blasted his side for wasting chances.

ISL FINAL

ATK Mohun Bagan face Bengaluru FC

AGENCIES @ Margao

AN exhilarating Indian Super League season will crown its champion as ATK Mohun Bagan take on Bengaluru FC for the silverware at the Jawaharlal Nehru Stadium here on Saturday. A win for the Mariners can hand them their maiden ISL title, while the Blues could lift their second one, having last done so in the 2018-19 season. Atletico Kolkata (ATK) before Mohun Bagan was bought over, had won ISL titles.

ATKMB have been unbeaten in five games leading up to the final, where they have only conceded once in those five games while keeping four clean sheets.

The club's defensive prowess has been evident since the league phase, where they conceded just 17 goals all season, making them statistically the second-best defensive team in the league after Hyderabad FC. In six ISL matches in the past, Bengaluru FC have only beaten ATKMB once and that came when the two sides last met at the Vivekananda Yuba Bharati Krirangan last month.

THE MA Chidambaram Stadium at Chepauk, a venue steeped in history where the first Ranji Trophy match between Madras and Mysore was played in 1934 has a newly-built pavilion and terrace which was inaugurated by Tamil Nadu Chief Minister MK Stalin along with N Srinivasan, former TNCA and BCCI president.

The stand that hosts the pavilion and three-tier terrace have been named after former Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M Karunanidhi.

Tamil Nadu Chief Minister MK Stalin along with N Srinivasan opened a plaque to commemorate the event and also cut a ribbon signalling the opening of the pavilion stand. Udhayanidhi Stalin, Minister for Youth Welfare and Sports Development of Tamil Nadu, former India captain MS Dhoni and former West Indian player Dwayne Bravo were present at the function.

Former India captain K Srikkanth, India players Hemang Badani and L Sivaramakrishnan were also present at the function. Members of the Chennai Super Kings team and support staff for whom Chepauk is the home ground, had a look at the new pavilion. The pavilion that once was a three-bay stand and hosted the umpires, patrons, player and chief guests has been completely re-done. The pavilion is only for the players and the match officials now and will be cut off from the pavilion area. The dressing rooms are spacious with all modern amenities so is the dining hall for both the home and visiting teams. "Fantastic, the pavilion stand looks beautiful with all the facilities for the players." said Srikkanth to this newspaper.

"The timing is right (World Cup) as the players will enjoy the new experience. All the facilities are elaborate. The dining area and the dressing rooms are spacious too. Players can relax and play in a more comfortable manner. The gyms and indoor facilities will be of great use for players as they prefer to be supremely fit," added Srikkanth lauding the TNCA for their initiative.

The rest of the stadium has also been given a facelift with the new galleries for the benefit of the spectators, including wheelchair access at the I-Lower stand. The lobby at the entrance of the pavilion has photos of some the matches, teams and great performances witnessed at Chepauk. Former TNCA president Rupa Gurunath, chairperson of the infrastructure committee and others responsible for the building the new stand were honoured at the function.

A museum, a Chennai Super Kings superstore and a place with other memorabilia are on the cards. The stadium has been readied in time keeping the World Cup in mind and fans are sure to enjoy the thrilling experience.

In the latest summer trends, GenZ seems hooked on bucket hats. Now, many international luxury fashion houses are also giving a spin to these hats

HATS ON

SPRING is upon us and so are various outdoor events. With street style being the top pick now for GenZ, one accessory that goes really well with the whole look are the bucket hats. It has been picked by many Hollywood celebrities and international models like Rihanna, Hailey Beiber, Irina Shayk, and Gigi Hadid to name a few.

Catering to the demand, many international luxury brands are also giving a spin to these hats. Take, for instance, Prada's fur bucket hat and bedazzled bucket hats which make it to the wardrobes of the high-profiled. From the luxury brands, these hats have now made their way to many street-style brands like HnM and Zara, hence making them a crowd favourite. Of course, Bengaluru is no exception and fashionistas have figured out various ways to style it as well.

Aswathi Balakrishnan, a fashion content creator and stylist, found out about bucket hat trends from Pinterest and international celebrities. "If you want to make it look super casual and chic, all you got to do is add a bucket hat because it screams relaxed fashion. It's not something where you have to try too hard. It's an accessory that completes your entire outfit and probably elevates it and makes you look way more stylish than you actually are," says Balakrishnan, adding when she is on vacation, she picks the bucket hat because it's also something that protects you from the sun.

Even for Shreya Yadav, a model by profession, functionality plays an important role when she picks a fashion accessory. "I keep track of the trends these days and also keep an eye on international bloggers because they jump onto the bandwagon before it comes to India. I had seen a couple of fashion bloggers sporting these bucket hats during an international fashion show and now it has caught on in India," says Yadav, adding she prefers to style it in a casual way with baggy pants. She further adds, "But I also experimented by teaming a bright orange bucket hat with a baggy orange blazer. It came out really well. It primarily depends on how you carry it off."

A key point to note during styling a hat is hairstyle. The style, texture and length of your hair completely change the look of it. But Smitha Y, a stylist and designer, says the beauty of a bucket hat is it is quite adaptable. "Bucket hats give an edgy and trendy look. So it doesn't matter how long or short your hair is. It's something that you can completely slay while you have your hair open and free because the whole idea about a bucket hat is to make your look more relaxed," she adds.

Not just ladies, bucket hats are quite popular among men too. In the Indian film industry, fashion icons like Ranveer Singh and Karan Johar have been seen sporting them too.

Sleep deprivation has emerged as a modern-day 'epidemic' that impacts health and quality of life, warn experts

MAHIMA ANNA JACOB & DESE GOWDA

COUNT YOUR ZZZ

HITTING the sack is the ultimate unwinding mantra for many. Nothing reinvigorates the weary mind and body as some good sleep, says ancient wisdom. However, nowadays, there is a growing tribe that indulges in 'bedtime me time' before zonking out. "Revenge bedtime procrastination," the experts call it.

Scrolling through the phone, watching films, chatting, music, gaming... it could be anything that excites one. Reports say the term 'revenge bedtime procrastination' comes from the Chinese expression báofúxíng áoyé. That is, anything done as a "retaliation" against one's hectic schedule during the day. "I stay up late, mostly hooked to my mobile phone," says content strategist Siddharth K. "Most of my days are drab. The only leisure time I get is at night, and I look for some disconnection from the mundane work-life cycle. Dozing off into slumber with the mobile phone on my chest has become a habit." Not all choose not to sleep at a healthy hour. "I have been struggling to get good sleep in the last few months," says city-based Pooja Das. "I often wake up within hours of dozing off, mostly due to the noise from the metro construction."

Both sound like classic cases of sleep deprivation, experts say. Sleeplessness or insomnia has, in fact, been flagged as a major health issue in the modern world - 'global sleep epidemic'. And, this year, the World Sleep Day (Mar 17) theme is a timely reminder to all those night owls out there: 'Sleep is Essential for Health'.

Insufficient sleep impacts cognitive effects. Poor memory and lack of concentration are common problems. "Most people don't realise how serious sleep deprivation is. In fact, numerous studies find that people who are sleep deprived for consecutive days have trouble focussing. In some instances, worse than people who are intoxicated," explains Dr Arvind Bhateja, lead neurosurgeon at Sparsh Hospital.

Sleep-deprived individuals may also exhibit risky behaviour. They often fail to consider all aspects of a problem. "Some of the biggest disasters in the last few years have all been attributed to sleep deprivation. In case of the Bhopal gas tragedy, and the Chernobyl nuclear disaster, the people who were in charge were found to have been sleep deprived," says Dr Pavan Yadav, lead consultant, interventional pulmonology & lung transplantation, Aster RV Hospital.

Besides insomnia, doctors note, cases of obstructive sleep apnoea, a serious sleep disorder in which breathing repeatedly stops and starts, are also rising. "In India, if a person is snoring loudly, it is assumed that they are having a sound sleep. But contrary to that belief, snoring happens when a person isn't able to breathe comfortably. Therefore, they won't be able to get a good night's sleep and might feel daytime drowsiness," says Dr Yadav, adding that such issues could also lead to cases of hypersomnia. "Patients with hypersomnia may sleep for more than 10 hours a day and still wake up tired. No amount of sleep helps them wake up refreshed," he adds.

RUBINATIONS
Rubi Chakravarti

Writer, actor and funny girl

I left the cool environs of namma ooru to fly into the muggy air of amchi Mumbai, on work. The staid atmosphere in Bengaluru was giving me ennui and when this work opportunity presented itself it was 'up-up' and away for me! As my aircraft circled my beloved city before landing, I was a little taken aback with an eerie mist that seemed to envelop everything. The lights of the airport seemed dim and diffused and everything had an eerie glow. One gets used to the pollution and the dust in the air and as Indians, we seem to have a savior-faire attitude about global warming, pollution and other such 'mundane' things. But the quality of air as I exited the airport and dashed towards my car was a veritable slap on my face! The heavy almost polluted and chemical-infested air hung heavy on my shoulders. There was nary a breeze and as I looked at my grand-daughter's smiling face through the car window I was overcome with remorse! What type of world were we leaving for our children and their children. Since ours was the generation that 'allowed' so much rampant destruction of the planet, I think we can't sit back and rest on our minor laurels anymore...we have to be a 'cause in the matter' and not stay silent as the usurpers mock our own little hero, Greta Thunberg.

I look vainly from my daughter's sea-facing flat for a glimpse of the sea. I cannot see it! It is enveloped in a thick white smog! My son-in-law says we are suffering from the 'El Nino' effect which basically traps all the air inland without allowing it to go seaward and cleanse itself. Mother-nature too, is teaching us a lesson!

Meanwhile in the city of my birth, many of my friends looked quite desolate that I was taking a longish break to jet off to Mumbai. So in-between getting my papers in order, and settling my home so that my perennially-hungry brood would have no complaints, I wasn't not going out much. But there are a couple of people, who have a specific purpose behind everything they do, (like putting Bengaluru on the map), and that just warms the cockles of my heart.

Vinod Hayagriv, MD and director of the C Krishniah Chetty Group is a third-generation lapidarist and connoisseur of fine jewellery. He often regales us with astonishing stories of how they had once identified a very rare and expensive diamond (of Indian origin) and unfortunately could not find a anyone in India who could afford to buy it. This and many anecdotes and stories are painstakingly chronicled into a beautiful book aptly named Bejewelled Past, jointly written by Hayagriv and Usha Balakrishnan. The party was a fabulous affair with women in rich silk and diamonds, the members of the royal family too graced the occasion one could see the 'bejewelled' elegance of auld Bangalore. Not a bad feat for a young lad whose father started with a small store on Commercial Street.

The unassuming but extremely talented head of the Department of Hotel Management, Christ university invited a big group of gourmands for a 'first of its kind' in India luncheon. The meal consisted of only meat and its spare-parts, cooked as delicacies from all over India!

All firsts...all in namma-ooru. I like it!

HONEY ON The rocks

MIXOLOGY
Jones Elish
The writer is a beverage head at SOCIAL (south)

HONEY has long been a beloved ingredient in cocktails, and its popularity only seems to be growing with time. One of the key reasons behind its enduring appeal is its incredible versatility as a sweetener. Bartenders around the world have been incorporating honey into their drinks for years, using it to add sweetness and balance to a variety of cocktails. From whiskey and bourbon-based cocktails to fruity and floral concoctions, honey has become a staple ingredient behind the bar.

Another exciting trend that has emerged in recent years is the use of locally sourced and specialty honey in cocktails. Many bartenders are exploring the unique flavours and aromas that different varieties of honey can bring to their drinks. Honeys like manuka or orange blossom, is increasingly being used to add depth and complexity to cocktails, while also highlighting the regional flavours of different areas.

Honey syrup is also quickly gaining popularity as a sweetener of choice for many bartenders. Made by combining honey and water, honey syrup is easier to mix into cocktails than straight honey and can be flavoured with various herbs, spices, and citrus fruits to add an even greater level of complexity to the drink.

Furthermore, honey is a natural, nutrient-rich alteranative to sugar that still provides the necessary sweetness and balance that cocktails require.

With its versatility, unique flavours, and health benefits, it is no wonder that bartenders around the world continue to experiment with different ways to incorporate honey into their drinks. Whether you are a fan of classic whiskey cocktails or fruity, tropical concoctions, there's sure to be a honey-sweetened drink out there that will appeal to your tastes.

So, next time you are out at a bar or trying your hand at making cocktails at home, be sure to keep honey in mind as a delicious and versatile sweetener. Here are some of my favourite cocktails' ingredients!

AN AMBITIOUS AND VIOLENT CRIME DRAMA

KABZAA
Director: R Chandru
Cast: Upendra, Sudeep, Shivarajkumar, Shriya Saran, and Murali Sharma

RATING 3/5

A SHARADHAA

DURING the promotions, director R Chandru admitted that the KGF franchise inspired him to create the world of Kabzaa. But Kabzaa has its own personality, impressive grandeur, solid star cast, massive sets, whistle-worthy dialogues, over-the-top violence, and of course... Upendra.

The film is about the rise of the underworld and traces the life of Arakeshwara (Upendra). Narrated by encounter specialist Bhargav Bakshi (Sudeep), the narrative has a never-ending barrage of characters, especially various dons, making fleeting appearances in and out of the film.

Set between the 40s and the 80s, we are introduced to Arakeshwara, who is born into a family of freedom fighters. Along with his parents and an elder brother, Sankeshwara (Sunil Puranik), the family is into weaving flags. Arakeshwara aspires to become a pilot and gets all the support from his elder brother. However, his dreams are cut short when his brother is murdered. The otherwise mild Arakeshwara turns violent, and marks his accidental entry into the underworld. Will he succeed in ruling the roost for a long time or meet a worthy challenger in Bhargav Bakshi makes up for the first part, and Shivarajkumar's cameo in this instalment only sets up a potential showdown between these three superstars in Kabzaa 2.

The actual story of Kabzaa is established in the second half and is peppered with high-octane action sequences featuring swords, guns, and a lot of bloodshed. Points to stunt directors Ravi Varma, Vijay, Chethan D' Souza, Vinod, Vikram Mor, and Thriller Manju for delivering the adrenaline rush.

Apart from the violence, Arakeshwara also has a romantic angle, involving Madhumathi (Shriya Saran), the Queen of the Bahaddhur family, who gets married against the wishes of her father. What price she pays for marrying a gangster is brought through various events, giving room for many more characters to be introduced in the sequel. There is a lot of drama, romance, and action, and can a film ever be complete without doses of mother sentiment?

Kabzaa is purely Chandru's vision and he mounts it through the superstardom of the three stars. But undoubtedly, the film belongs to its technical crew who deliver a solid spectacle. Art director Shivakumar masterfully crafts the massive sets to bring alive Chandru's vision for Kabzaa. Ravi Basrur continues to carry his signature style and balances the mass appeal of the film's star cast, and the music required for commercial potboilers. While the background music might seem too loud, it justifies the film's rather dark narrative. AJ Shetty, who has previously assisted Bhuvan Gowda in KGF, has utilised his learnings from that film in Kabzaa. Editor Mahesh Reddy employs a similar pattern but manages to dish out a distinct style too. However, the VFX leaves a lot to be desired.

'If you want to win. I will play the game. If you want to kill, I will end the game,' says Upendra in one of the high points of the film. Kabzaa allows the actor to showcase his super-heroic side, and he stands tall. He fits well into the role of Arakeshwara, and nails his transformation from a normal person to a dreaded don. Shriya is regal as the Queen, and is a perfect fit for the role.

Sudeep's narration adds value to the film and helps us traverse through the various timelines and characters. His appearance as a strict police officer will cheer his fans. Shivarajkumar's entry makes you look forward to the sequel. With countless characters seen in various face-offs with Upendra, Danish Akhtar Sait in the role of Baali, Nawab Shah as Bangera, Kamarajan as Khalid, and John Kokken as Malik, make their presence felt. There is Anup Revanna as Target Fayas and Murali Sharma who give a decent performance. The film also features Ashwath Ninasam and Suresh in blink-and-miss roles. In fact, innumerable characters in the film only end up being forgettable.

Kabzaa's story does not follow KGF but it does have similar themes like the underdog becoming an underworld don. It is definitely a film for all those who enjoy action drama, superior technical quality, and of course, the high of watching three of Sandalwood's biggest Superstars coming together on the big screen.

The perils of being overstuffed with synthesised lightheartedness

PRASHANTH VALLAVAN

SHAZAM! Fury of the Gods joins the recent, growing list of superhero films that struggle to balance humour with action and high stakes. Contrary to (the now) popular belief, it is not a crime to ingest superhero films with humour, but that being said, it has become stale now. Just after pushing the audience through a serious moment, maybe a confrontation with the antagonist, and with the fate of the city, the world, the universe, and perhaps all of existence in balance, and then... we cut sharply to a quip by the hero. He has to save the world, but he takes a small break to establish his goofiness...oh no the hilarity!

There was a time when this formula actually worked but you can only do so many variations before the lines between these films start blurring and you cannot find the distinction between a Shazam or a Guardians of the Galaxy or even between a Marvel and DC film for that matter. While the DC films had a garden variety of issues with their universe building, the MCU, for everything it did right, was still criticised for its formulaic and synthesised lightheartedness. And now, like a plague upon the superhero genre, it has transcended IP and corporate barriers and has afflicted writers and directors from both DC and Marvel. The problem with these superhero films are never the superhero genre itself, but the fact that this genre of storytelling, packed with childlike wonder and awe, is now being milked dry by corporate entities, who probably bring business jargon of their board rooms, like 'mitigate risk factors', into the writer's room, and kill any kind of exciting creative exploration.

RATING 1.5/5

Much like its successor, Shazam! (2019) too used a similar type of tension-release style for its humour but it worked to a large extent and was bearable solely through the strength of a strong, coherent screenplay. The supposed light-heartedness in Shazam 2, however, while not being the entirety of its problem, was a glaring symptom of its unfocused writing. The film extracts its light-hearted moments from the fact that the protagonist Billy Batson/Shazam and his friends/siblings become adult versions of themselves when they summon their powers but the transformation is only physical ergo exploring the humour in the concept: silly things a kid would do when suddenly transformed into an adult, with superpowers nonetheless. The problem here is that the adults portraying the children make their younger versions come off as zany and over-the-top, instead of actual children their age. And to top it off, the children are barely children themselves, with most of them in their late teens.

Perhaps one of the most conspicuous problems with Shazam! Fury of the Gods is the eponymous gods and their supposed fury. The daughters of Atlas, played by Helen Mirren, Lucy Liu, and Rachel Zegler walk onto the screen with vapid eyes, as though they were given less direction than the extras around them. The actors might not be at fault here since the characters reveal the shallowness of their descriptions with every line uttered. The motives of the antagonists don't act as a counterbalance to the central theme of the film, nor do the schemes of the antagonists seem original, thrilling, or entertaining in the least.

Djimon Hounsou's Wizard/Shazam who was brilliantly portrayed as a 'disgruntled Gandalf' in the first film was relegated to a directionless character who spouts one-liners and comically rolls his eyes when he is not dumping exposition on us. The film feels all the more daunting when you know that director David F Sandberg is definitely capable of much better than this. The film had an interesting take-off point served up by its predecessor, and the character of Shazam definitely has more layers than just a 'kid with superpowers.'
